Coast Guard continues search on Snake River for body of Rachael Anderson

By Veronica Miracle (<http://www.klewtv.com/about/people/peoplenews/154150525.html>) | Published: Jan 9, 2014 at 7:34 AM PST (2014-01-9T15:34:40Z)

Searching will continue farther down the river.

CLARKSTON, WA - The search for a missing Clarkston woman now extends into Thursday after an announcement from the Asotin County Sheriff's Office.

The U.S. Coast Guard is assisting in the search for Rachael Anderson who went missing in 2010. They're extending their search into Thursday and possibly to Friday with their remote operated vessel that's scanning the river floor.

"We'll go down river and then search areas where the river may have pushed her body into a back-flow type area," said Asotin County Sheriff's Office Detective, Jackie Nichols.

Nichols said they didn't find anything in the river Wednesday. They're searching a specific area of the Snake River with information from David Stone, one of the suspects in the murder case who pleaded guilty to lesser charges in exchange for his testimony against Charles Capone, who's charged with Anderson's murder.

Snake River search continues using Sonar equip. to locate body of Rachel Anderson

KLEWTV.COM/NEWS/LOCAL/SONAR-239266611.HTML?TAB=VIDEO&C=Y

Highly sophisticated equipment has a sonar detector and video camera.

CLARKSTON, WA - This week local authorities are teaming up with the United States Coast Guard to search for the body of a missing woman.

Reporter Veronica Miracle learns more about the Side Scan Sonar equipment that's mapping the river floor in search of Rachael Anderson.

On a cold, blistery Tuesday United States Coast Guard officials use this Remote Operated Vessel to search the river.

"We look for details, we look for certain signatures, certain characteristics and we identify sonar targets," said U.S. Coast Guard PO1, Matthew Fox.

The ROV device has a sonar detector and video camera. Designed specifically to convert acoustic echoes of the river floor into images.

"A lot of logs," said Fox. "A lot of sunken bedrock. So there's a lot of sunken objects on the river bed there under the bridge."

Asotin County Sheriff's Office Detective Jackie Nichols said the Coast Guard is here to help search for Rachael Anderson. She went missing in 2010 and her estranged husband, Charles Capone, is awaiting trial for allegedly murdering her.

"Just seeing the silt cover down there absolutely it's possible that any object that is at the bottom of the river," said Fox.

The search for Anderson's body began after a tip from fishermen who say a tarp-covered object fell off their anchor. However Capone's alleged accomplice David Stone, recently took a plea deal.

"This search yes is based on the information that was given to us by David Stone," said Fox. "That's why we're following up and concentrating on this particular area."

They didn't find anything on the river Tuesday but Detective Nichols said they'll be back on the water Wednesday.

"They have very sophisticated equipment so we're able to do some searching that we hadn't been able to do before so I am hopeful," said Nichols.

Nichols said there are other resources they can utilize, such as the Spokane County Dive Team, if the search Wednesday comes up dry.

I sure hope they find her body so the family can have some closure and a slight end to their pain. As far as Capone, I hope he gets the death penalty and is put out of our world as soon as possible. GARBAGE like him has no place in the world and the people don't need to be paying to feed or house the idiot in prison. He deserves exactly what he gave her, death and a very painful one at that..

Sheriff confirms search on Snake River related to Rachel Anderson's disappearance

WWW.KLEWTV.COM/NEWS/LOCAL/SEARCH-ON-SNAKE-RIVER-CONTINUES-239060211.HTML?TAB=VIDEO&C=Y

A tip from local fishermen spurs search in the Snake River.

CLARKSTON, WA - Local authorities and the United States Coast Guard came up empty handed Monday in their search for the body of a missing woman, thought to possibly be in the Snake River.

Asotin County Sheriff Ken Bancroft confirms the search is in connection with Rachael Anderson. The Clarkston woman went missing in 2010.

It's never been confirmed that Charles Capone, her estranged husband, murdered Anderson but he remains behind bars awaiting trial on murder charges.

This is the second time the boats have gone on the river looking for a body after a tip from local fishermen.

"Something wrapped in a tarp that came up with the anchor and broke free so that's what we've been searching for and we've narrowed it down to this one particular area," said Asotin County Sheriff Ken Bancroft. "And that's possibly where her body is."

While there are no divers in the water this week, the coast guard has brought side-sonar scanning to assist Asotin County Sheriff's deputies in the search. The search continues through Wednesday if necessary.

2013 top memorable news stories on the Palouse

www.klewtv.com/news/local/top-2013-stories-on-the-palouse-238444621.html?tab=video&c=y

Many 2013 news stories could continue to make headlines.

MOSCOW, ID - KLEW News covered a wide variety of stories on the Palouse in 2013, including everything from lengthy murder trials to promising research projects on the college campuses.

Reporter Rachel Dubrovin gives us a look back at some of the most memorable news stories that happened on the Palouse this year.

"My body was really cold and I started crying, and I said, 'I can't do this anymore, I can't do this anymore,'" said defendant Daniel Lazcano.

At the Whitman County Courthouse, 2013 was the year brothers Frank and Daniel Lazcano were tried for the 2011 murder of Marcus Schur.

"He was looking into my eyes when he died," said defendant Frank Lazcano.

Frank Lazcano was found guilty of first degree murder in March, while Daniel had trials in February and June that both resulted in hung juries. A Spokane County jury found him guilty during his third trial in December.

"This has been a case about vigilantes," said Whitman County Prosecutor Denis Tracy.

In March, Washington State University Instructor Doctor David Warner was assaulted outside the Adams Mall in Pullman.

"I'm very confident that arrests of those suspects are imminent," said Pullman Police Chief Gary Jenkins.

After almost two weeks of searching for the suspects, four people were arrested. Charges have yet to be filed.

The Grove Apartment Fire in July was another major story out of Pullman.

"Fire of that magnitude, you only see about one or two of those in your whole career," said Pullman Fire Chief Mike Heston.

Police arrested suspected arsonist Brian Kitchen after about a week of investigation. His jury trial is scheduled for March.

"And Rachael Anderson was never heard from again," said Latah County Prosecutor Bill Thompson.

At the Latah County Courthouse, murder charges were filed against Charles Capone and David Stone in relation to the 2010 disappearance of Rachael Anderson. Anderson's husband Capone will go to trial next March, but Stone entered an agreement with the state and pleaded guilty to Failure to Notify Law Enforcement or Coroner of Death.

"Mr, Stone had given information that we hope will help the investigators locate Rachael," said Thompson.

Stone is currently out of jail on bail.

2013 was a transitional year for the University of Idaho as they said goodbye to President Duane Nellis in May and selected a new leader in November.

"It's an incredible opportunity," said University of South Dakota Provost Chuck Staben. "I'm sure it's going to be an incredible challenge."

University of South Dakota Provost Chuck Staben will take over as the U of I's 18th president in March. For the last time in 2013, on the Palouse, Rachel Dubrovin, KLEW News.

Most of those stories will continue to make headlines in 2014. Be sure to tune in to KLEW News and we'll keep you updated on the latest.

Murder accomplice supplies information in the disappearance of Rachel Anderson

www.klewtv.com/news/local/snake-river-search-linked-to-rachel-andersons-disappearance-235929921.html?TAB=VIDEO&C=Y

Snake River search was linked to Anderson's disappearance.

CLARKSTON, WA - The Latah County prosecutor said the search on the Snake River last month was related in part to what a suspect in Rachel Anderson's disappearance told investigators.

Prosecutor Bill Thompson said the plea agreement reached this week with David Stone of Moscow may help authorities get more answers, including where Rachael Anderson's body is.

She went missing in April of 2010 after filing for divorce from her estranged husband Charles Capone. He's charged with first degree murder, with his trial set for March.

But Stone, his alleged accomplice, is now testifying against Capone for a lesser sentence. Investigators said they didn't find any remains while searching the Snake River last month.

Stone's change of plea deal could result as being witness for the State's case

LEWTV.COM/NEWS/LOCAL/STONE-DEAL-235581211.HTML?TAB=VIDEO&C=Y

Judge Brudie will decide whether or not he accepts the terms of the agreement. MOSCOW, ID - New information was unveiled Wednesday in the Latah County Courthouse regarding the 2010 disappearance of Rachael Anderson.

Reporter Rachel Dubrovin explains why one of the men that was originally charged with Anderson's murder will now serve as a witness in the state's case against her husband.

"How do you plea?" asked Second District Court Judge Jeff Brudie.

"Guilty, your honor," said defendant David Stone.

Wednesday, 50-year-old Moscow resident David Stone pleaded guilty to Failure to Notify Law Enforcement or Coroner of Death as part of a plea agreement with the Latah County Prosecutor.

"In return for his guilty plea and cooperation, the state will not pursue the conspiracy and murder charges," said Latah County Prosecutor Bill Thompson. "And at this point, the evidence that we have suggests that he was not involved in the actual murder, so factually, that's the most appropriate decision to make."

Stone was originally charged with murder in relation to the 2010 disappearance of Rachael Anderson of Clarkston. Anderson's husband at the time, Charles Capone still faces murder charges. Latah County Prosecutor Bill Thompson said that Stone will now serve as a witness in the state's case against Capone.

"I don't think that you can put particular importance on any single witness," said Thompson. "It is certainly important that we have the truth. And we hope that Mr. Stone will be another witness who will help the jury understand the truth when it comes to Mr. Capone's trial."

Thompson said Stone recently came forward with more information about Anderson's disappearance.

"Mr. Stone has given information that we hope will help the investigators locate Rachael," said Thompson.

In court, Thompson explained that new information from Stone indicates that he wasn't involved in the actual murder, but he helped Capone cover it up. Capone is scheduled to go to trial on March 31st, and Stone will be required to testify against him.

Second District Court Judge Jeff Brudie accepted Stone's guilty plea and said a sentencing date will be set for after Capone's trial. At that point Judge Brudie will also decide whether or not he accepts the terms of the agreement. Judge Brudie is expected to lower Stone's bail from the current $250,000 in the near future.

Special hearing scheduled for Stone's change of plea in the disappearance of Rachel Anderson www.klewtv.com/news/local/stone-hearing-235392571.html?tab=video&c=y

Stone is accused of killing Rachel Anderson.

MOSCOW, ID - One of the men accused of killing Rachel Anderson will appear in court Wednesday for a change of plea hearing.

David Stone, 50, is expected to enter a plea agreement Wednesday afternoon at the Latah County Courthouse. Stone and 52-year-old Charles Capone both face a number of charges in relation to the disappearance of Rachael Anderson of Clarkston. Charges include first degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder.

Anderson was last seen in April 2010 and her body has never been found. At the time of her disappearance, she and Capone were going through a divorce. Capone's trial is scheduled for March 31st, and we'll continue to keep you up-to-date on the prosecution of both men.

Prosecution's request to combine trials was denied

Capone's trial will begin in December

MOSCOW, ID - The two men facing charges in relation to the 2010 disappearance of Rachael Anderson will be tried separately in Idaho's Second Judicial District.

Charles Capone and David Stone are facing felony charges of first degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder in addition to other misdemeanor charges.

Last week the prosecution asked Second District Judge Jeff Brudie to combine the trials since the charges and evidence are identical. Judge Brudie denied that request on Thursday.

Capone's trial is set for December ninth. A court date hasn't been set for Stone.

Stone, Capone murder trial could be combined into one trial

Stone faces identical charges in relation to the disappearance of Rachael Anderson.

COLFAX, WA - The men accused of killing Rachel Anderson have entered not guilty pleas.

The judge in the case will soon announce whether the two men will be tried together, or separately. David Stone was arraigned on Thursday in the Latah County Second District Court, and Anderson's estranged husband, Charles Capone was arraigned last month. Second District Judge Jeff Brudie also heard the prosecution's request to combine the two cases into one.

"Well, it just makes sense," said Latah County Prosecutor Bill Thompson. "The charges against them are identical, the evidence is identical, and there's really no reason to have to repeat that two times."

Anderson was last seen in April of 2010. Her body hasn't been recovered. Capone and Stone face a number of charges in relation to her disappearance including first degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder, both of which are felonies. Capone has a tentative trial date for December ninth, but that will likely change if the defendants are tried together.

Capone enters innocent plea to first degree murder of Rachael Anderson.

www.klewtv.com/news/local/capone-enters-innocent-plea-to-murder-charge-220431841.html?TAB=VIDEO&C=Y

Defense attorney, Ray Barker needs additional time to respond to joint trial.

MOSCOW, ID - A Moscow man accused of the 2010 murder of a Clarkston woman, is one step closer to trial.

KLEW News takes you to Latah County Second District Court, where Charles Capone entered his plea in the case.

Accused murderer Charles Capone was attentive in a Latah County courtroom Tuesday morning, as presiding Judge Michael Griffin detailed the list of charges he faces.

"Without telling me what if you're innocent or not, sir, do you understand what you've been accused of?" said Judge Griffin.

"Yes sir, I do," said Capone.

Capone, along with his alleged co-conspirator David Stone, faces up to life in prison if convicted of any or all four of the charges. Both men are accused of murdering Capone's estranged wife, Rachael Anderson, who's been missing since 2010. The state charged Capone and Stone with murder in the first degree, conspiracy to commit murder in the first degree, failure to notify coroner of death and conspiracy to commit failure to notify coroner of death.

"I'm pleading not guilty," said Capone.

Capone's previous convictions also prompted the state to tack on a persistent violator provision, which could add on at least another five years in prison, if a jury finds him guilty. After Capone entered his plea and a trial date was set, Latah County Prosecutor Bill Thompson informed Judge Griffin that the state plans to join Capone and Stone's case, a last minute move that Capone's Defense Attorney Ray Barker wasn't prepared to comment on.

"We intend to join these two trials they are identical evidentiary wise, they are identical as far as what is charged," said Thompson.

"I would ask for additional time to prepare to respond to this because right off the top of my head I'm not prepared to speak to that," said Barker.

Capone's jury trial is set for December 9th at 9 a.m.

David Stone, Capone's alleged accomplice, is still awaiting a judge to be assigned to his case, after the state requested District Judge John Stegner be disqualified.

Arraignment delayed for Capone, Stone murder trial.

MOSCOW, ID - The arraignment for the two men accused of killing Rachael Anderson of Clarkston has been postponed until a new district judge is appointed to the trial.

The state's case against Charles Capone and David Stone was bound over to District Court last Thursday after a three-day preliminary hearing.

Their arraignment was scheduled for Wednesday morning, but the prosecution filed a motion of disqualify District Judge John Stegner.

The prosecution did not give a reason for this motion.

The trial will still take place in Latah County, but the court will have to find a new judge from the Second Judicial District before Capone and Stone can be arraigned.

State against Stone arguments heard at preliminary hearing

S/LOCAL/CAPONE-STONE-218365771.HTML?TAB=VIDEO&C=Y)

Alleged accomplice, Stone conspired with Capone to kill Anderson
MOSCOW, ID - The state's case against the two Moscow men accused of killing Rachel Anderson was bound over for trial, but the majority of the witness testimonies during the preliminary hearing were focused on Charles Capone.

Palouse reporter Rachel Dubrovin explains what evidence the state has against Capone's alleged accomplice, David Stone.

During the three-day preliminary hearing of Charles Capone and David Stone, many witnesses provided evidence supporting the state's claim that Capone killed his estranged wife, Rachael Anderson, but had nothing to say about the other defendant.

"He's as much of a stranger to you as me," said Defense Attorney Charles Kovis.

However, one of the most crucial witnesses was Christopher Porter, a man that used to work with Stone at the City of Moscow's Maintenance Department.

"Is the person that you know as David Stone, is he here in the courtroom today?" said Latah County Prosecutor Bill Thompson.

"Yes," said former City of Moscow employee Christopher Porter.

Porter didn't say much while under oath, but the prosecution played a recording of a conversation that a Latah County Sheriff's Office detective had with Porter regarding Stone allegedly approaching Porter to kill his wife.

"That's what it was, for the money," said recorded voice of Porter. "That's what he said, 'I'll give you

$10,000 to do it, for his insurance to go through."

Stone's defense attorney questioned Porter's credibility since he wouldn't repeat the recorded statements in his testimony.

"So everything that you said to Detective Besst is true," said Kovic.

"I don't know, I don't even recollect the conversation till I just heard it," said Porter.

But the state called on David Stone's wife, Alisa Stone to testify about her life insurance policy.

"The Prudential policy, which is approximately $40,000 at that time, is under the Percy system," said Stone's wife Alisa Stone. "It's required that your spouse is the beneficiary."

"And that would be Mr. Stone, then?" said Thompson.

"Yes," said Alisa.

The state called another City of Moscow employee that Stone used to work for. He testified that a couple weeks before Anderson disappeared, Stone asked to learn how to use a backhoe.

"And what did you find when you came back to check on him?" said Thompson.

"That he had dug a hole as deep as he could dig with a backhoe," said City of Moscow Employee Jean Dethman.

In closing statements, the state argued that Stone conspired with Capone to kill Anderson, as well as hide her body where it would never be found.

Both men face identical charges, including first degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder. Their arraignment in district court is scheduled for August seventh.

Judge finds probable cause for Capone, Stone murder trial

Capone and Stone had alleged pact to kill their wives.

MOSCOW, ID - The preliminary hearing for the two Moscow men, accused of killing Rachael Anderson, concluded Thursday in the Latah County Courthouse.

Palouse Reporter Rachel Dubrovin shares why the judge in the case ruled that there is probable cause to support putting the defendants on trial for the murder of the Clarkston woman who disappeared more than three-years ago.

"And Rachael Anderson was never heard from again," said Latah County Prosecutor Bill Thompson.

The three-day preliminary hearing of Rachael Anderson's estranged husband Charles Capone and his alleged accomplice David Stone came to a close Thursday evening with a ruling in the prosecution's favor.

"After considering all of the admissible evidence, I am concluding that the state has satisfied its burden," said Latah County Magistrate Judge John Judge.

Magistrate John Judge agreed that there is probable cause to bind Capone and Stone over for trial.

"Probably most telling about the fact that Rachael is not only missing, but is dead, is that she has never had any further contact with either two of her juvenile sons," said Thompson.

The state called more than 30 witnesses to the stand during the course of the hearing, including Anderson's friends, investigators, and even those who served jail time with Capone.

"He said he buried her so deep they'd never find her," said former Asotin County Jail Inmate Brent Glass.

In closing statements, the state emphasized the fact that Anderson was actively seeking a divorce from Capone, that the defendants were stalking her, and that the the two men were the last ones who saw her alive.

"And all this again in the context of a mutual agreement between Mr. Capone and Mr. Stone to kill each others wives," said Thompson.

Stone's defense attorney argued that the recorded interview with an uncredible witness is the only piece of evidence confirming Capone and Stone had a pact to kill their wives.

"If this case begins with him, then it should end with him," said Defense Attorney Charles Kovis.

Capone's defense attorney argued that much of the evidence was based on speculation.

"There's no evidence that anything occurred here in Latah County," said Defense Attorney Mark Monson.

But in the end, the judge decided that all the state's evidence fits together to form one clear picture.

"Rachael Anderson's body has never been recovered, but there's certainly reason to believe that she's never coming home," said Judge.

The arraignment for both defendants is scheduled for August seventh at 11:00 a.m.

Long list of witnesses take the stand to build case against Capone and Stone

S/LOCAL/DAY-3-CAPONE-STONE-217938891.HTML?TAB=VIDEO&C=Y\)

Multiple witnesses testify that Capone implied that he killed Anderson.
MOSCOW, ID - The preliminary hearing for the two Moscow men accused of murdering Rachael Anderson of Clarkston continued Wednesday with testimonies from more key witnesses.

The prosecution continues to call a long list of witnesses to the stand to build their case against Charles Capone and David Stone.

"I said, 'Charles, I know that you guys are married, but that's borderline stalking,'" said friend of Charles Capone Robert Bogden. "You need to be careful, you know. Nothing good's going to come out of that."

One of the focal points in the state's case is the Chevy Yukon that Capone's estranged wife Rachael Anderson was driving when she disappeared in April 2010.

"What we found was farther away from the steering wheel and the pedals than what would have been comfortable for someone of her size to drive," said Idaho State Police Detective Mike Mooney.

An Idaho State Police detective explained the driver's seat was adjusted for someone taller than Anderson, and that traces of her blood were found inside the vehicle. Another witness explained that her cadaver dog picked up the scent of a dead body in the back of the SUV.

"She had the odor of human decomposition in that Yukon, but was unable to source it," said Cadaver Dog Trainer Ronda Bowser.

Later, Anderson's attorney and close friend both testified that she was preparing to finalize her divorce from Capone.

"She was very concerned because he had become more and more angry over time, and she was fearful of his reaction," said close friend of Rachel Anderson, Jennifer Norberg.

The prosecution also called friends of Capone to testify that he was acting strange before Anderson disappeared. One witness explained that Capone admitted to waiting outside Anderson's house to see if she came home alone.

"I sort of cut to the case and said, 'Ah, nothing good can happen there'" said Bogden. "You know, from that situation. So I tried to convince him not to do that, to seek therapy."

During the final cross examination of the day, the defense was surprised to learn that investigators didn't preserve a recorded interview between Capone and a detective, even though multiple witnesses testified that Capone implied that he killed Anderson during that interview.

"To be quite honest, we forgot," said Moscow Police Detective Lieutenant James Fry.

"Is there anything else in this investigation that you forgot to document?" said Defense Attorney Mark Monson.

The preliminary hearing will resume Thursday morning at 8:00. Counsel agreed to get an early start in hopes of getting through the rest of the witnesses Thursday.

Hearing for Capone and Stone began Tuesday for the murder of Rachel Anderson

State builds case at preliminary hearing for Capone and Stone.

MOSCOW, ID - The preliminary hearing for the two Moscow men accused of murdering Rachel Anderson, of Clarkston, started Tuesday at the Latah County Courthouse.

Palouse Reporter Rachel Dubrovin tells us who was called to the stand and what kind of evidence the state has against the defendants.

As expected, it was a long day in the Latah County Courthouse, as the state began building their case against Charles Capone and David Stone in their preliminary hearing.

"This preliminary hearing promises to be lengthy, complex and emotional," said Latah County Judge John Judge.

The state has to prove to the judge that there is probable cause to believe that Rachael Anderson was murdered, and that the defendants are the ones who committed the crime.

"She said she confronted Mr. Stone and said, 'Stoney, what the hell do you think you're doing?' And his response was, 'I'm keeping an eye on you for Charles,'" said Anderson's ex-husband Dennis Plunkett.

One of the first witnesses was Anderson's daughter, Amber Griswold.

"I called the police," said Griswold.

Griswold is the one who first reported her mother missing in April of 2010. She testified that when she called Anderson's estranged husband, Capone, he didn't seem very concerned.

"What were you doing during that period of time?" asked the prosecutor.

"I was outside of her house because I was afraid I was going to go in and find my mom's dead body," said Griswold.

The state called multiple law enforcement officers to the stand, including Asotin County Sheriff's Office Captain Daniel Hally. Hally told the court that he met Anderson days before she disappeared because she wanted to report that someone was stalking her.

"My understanding was the stalking and harassing involved phone calls, surveillance, text messaging and damage to her property," said Hally.

Hally said that he believes Capone was stalking Anderson.

"She was going to tell him that their relationship was over, that she was done," said Hally.

Hally testified that he was supposed to meet with Anderson again, but she disappeared before they had the chance. The prosecution also called to the stand an Idaho State Police Detective that investigated the Chevy Yukon Anderson was driving before she disappeared.

"There's blood here," said Idaho State Police Detective Mike Mooney.

The vehicle contained divorce papers, evidence of the stalking, and a piece of paper with blood on it.

The prosecution called a total of twelve witnesses to testify Tuesday, and the state will continue their direct examination of Detective Mike Mooney Wednesday morning. The preliminary hearing is expected to last through Thursday.

Judge will listen to a summary of evidence in disappearance of Rachael Anderson

S/LOCAL/JUDGE-WILL-LISTEN-TO-A-SUMMARY-OF-EVIDENCE-IN-DISAPPEARANCE-OF-RACHAEL-ANDERSON--217620541.HTML?T/

Location of Anderson's body remains a mystery

MOSCOW, ID - The two men accused of the 2010 murder of a Clarkston woman will appear in the Latah County Courthouse Tuesday morning for a preliminary hearing.

Every defendant that's accused of a felony in the state of Idaho has a right to a preliminary hearing, and Moscow residents Charles Capone and David Stone are both charged with first degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder in relation to the disappearance of Rachael Anderson. A preliminary hearing is sometimes referred to as a "mini-trial" because the judge will listen to a summary of the evidence and decide whether or not there is probable cause to believe that the crime was committed.

"At a preliminary hearing, the state calls witnesses, similar to a trial, but not with the same detail as a trial because the standard is only probable cause," said Latah County Prosecutor Bill Thompson.

Capone and Stone were arrested in May, following three years of investigation in the disappearance of Capone's estranged wife. To date, the location of Anderson's body remains a mystery. Thompson said the hearing will take at least three days because the State has a large amount of circumstantial evidence to present to the judge.

Bail set for Moscow man linked to the disappearance of Rachel Anderson

S/LOCAL/STONE-BAIL-SET-216767411.HTML?TAB=VIDEO&C=Y)

Whitman Co. Court Judge set David Stone's bond at $250,000.

MOSCOW, ID - The bail was set in court for a man accused of killing a Clarkston woman. A $250,000 bond was set for a Moscow man, charged with first degree murder in connection with the 2010 disappearance of Rachel Anderson.

Latah County Magistrate, John Judge set David Stone's bond at $250,000 despite the prosecution's request to set it at $1 million. Stone and the victim's estranged husband, Charles Capone, were arrested in May on charges of first degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder. Both men were originally being held without bail. Their preliminary hearing is set for next Tuesday.

Moscow men face charges in connection with Rachael Anderson disappearance.

COLFAX, WA - The Latah County prosecutor will not seek the death penalty in the state's case against Charles Capone and David Stone who are both charged with the murder of a Clarkston woman.

The two Moscow men were arrested in May in connection with the 2010 disappearance of Rachael Anderson. Both are charged with first-degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder.

Prosecutor Bill Thompson recently filed a notice with the court indicating his intent to avoid seeking capital punishment in this case. Capone and Stone's preliminary hearing is scheduled for July 30th.

Preliminary hearing date set for Capone and Stone

By Rachel Dubrovin | Published: May 10, 2013 at 9:31 AM PST (2013-05-10T17:31:40Z)

Preliminary hearing date set for June 27th.

MOSCOW, ID - Charles Capone and David Stone appeared in the Latah County Courthouse Thursday morning to set a preliminary hearing of their trial for the murder of Rachael Anderson.

Palouse Reporter Rachel Dubrovin gives us an update on the court proceedings, and explains why capital punishment is an option for both defendants.

Last week, two Moscow men were arrested for first-degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder in relation to the 2010 disappearance of Rachael Anderson. Thursday morning, the defendants, Charles Capone and David Stone, appeared in court to schedule their preliminary hearing.

"Sometimes it's referred to as a mini-trial," said Latah County Prosecuting Attorney Bill Thompson. "There's no jury, but there's a judge. The defendants have a right to be present with their attorneys and we will call witnesses to testify and to offer evidence."

Thompson says that after three years of investigating, this preliminary hearing could take a couple of days.

"Well this case is unusual just because it is largely circumstantial," said Thompson. "Rachael's body has not been found, and so it's going to require the presentation of evidence from a number of different sources so the judge can consider the whole picture."

The hearing was set for June 27th and the judge decided to hold both defendants without bail, despite the request of Stone's defense attorney, who argued that Stone is an active member of the community who wouldn't skip out on a court date.

"Mr. Stone, as far as I know, had no alcohol problem, no drug problem," said Defending Attorney Charles Kovis. "He attends church groups."

"Our position at this point is that they are not legally entitled to bail," said Thompson. "The case is still in its early stages, the charges are extremely serious."

Thompson said the charges are so serious that the death penalty is an option.

"Capital punishment is authorized penalty for first-degree murder, and for conspiracy to commit first-degree murder," said Thompson. "Both defendants are charged with those offenses."

However, the prosecution remains undecided on whether or not they will pursue that option.

"That's a decision that we take very seriously and we want to make sure that we take the time to ensure that we have all the facts and we've considered it fully before we finalize a decision," said Thompson.

After the preliminary hearing, the judge will decide if there is probable cause to believe these two men committed the crime.

Both men will have the same preliminary hearing. It's scheduled to start at 8:30 a.m. on June 27th, and is expected to last through the 28th.

Moscow business owner felt Capone had a dark side

By Veronica Miracle (<http://www.klewtv.com/about/people/peopleneus/154150525.html>) | Published: May 6, 2013 at 2:01 PM PST (2013-05-6T22:01:22Z)

Capone charged with first-degree murder.

LEWISTON, ID - Many people in the region are still trying to come to grips with the disappearance of Rachael Anderson, and the murder charges filed against estranged husband, Charles Capone.

Jake Stewart manufactures jewelry and custom pieces out of his shop in a Moscow business park. Charles Capone ran an auto mechanic business on the other side of the building and Stewart says there was always something dark about Capone.

"I think that the presumption has always been," said Stewart. "I don't think there was anyone that really questioned if he was involved, with his wife's disappearance."

Stewart said he met Capone a couple times while they worked in close proximity and never got a good vibe from him. He said he's been following the Rachael Anderson disappearance case, waiting to see if charges would be handed down.

"Someone like an upstanding citizen, run of the mill kind of guy you might give him the benefit of the doubt... but he wasn't," said Stewart. "I would immediately suspect him."

Capone and his alleged accomplice, David Stone, were charged on Wednesday with murder in the first-degree, conspiracy to commit murder in the first-degree and failure to notify law enforcement or a coroner of a death.

Latah Co. Prosecutor Thompson's long road to filing charges against Capone

By Sophie Miraglio | Published: May 3, 2013 at 9:44 AM PST (2013-05-3T17:44:42Z)

Investigators find sufficient evidence to file charges.

LEWISTON, ID - Murder charges have been filed against two Moscow men linked to the disappearance of a Clarkston woman, who's been missing for three years.

Authorities have been actively investigating the disappearance of Rachael Anderson since she was first reported missing three years ago.

"Over time the investigators have gradually accumulated more and more information," said Latah County Prosecutor Bill Thompson.

On Tuesday that information was reviewed by all the lead investigators, also new information from cellmates of Charles Capone was brought to the table.

"And after analyzing we decided that there was sufficient information out there that we believed it was appropriate to proceed with the filing of charges," said Thompson.

Charges were brought against not only Charles Capone but also his friend 49-Year-Old David Stone. The two men were the last people known to have seen Anderson.

"You can't say that there's one thing that made the difference in the initiation of charges," said Thompson. "It really was the accumulation of all the on-going investigation results."

Both men were charged with principal to murder in the first-degree, conspiracy to commit murder in the first-degree, and failure to notify a coroner or law enforcement of the death.

"We want to have the case move forward to a resolution, and have some accountability and some closure for the victims," said Thompson.

Due to the FBI's failure to file federal charges in the allotted time period, Capone was scheduled to be released. However, these new charges will keep him behind bars for the time being.

"The timing of our filing charges has nothing to do with that," said Thompson.

Anderson was last seen in the Moscow area on April 16th of 2010.

The federal investigation of Charles Capone remains active and ongoing.

CLARKSTON, WA - While the entire community has watched and waited for answers about Rachael Anderson's disappearance, none have paid more attention than her family.

Anderson's daughter Amber Griswold shared some of her thoughts about her mother's estranged husband, who now faces murder charges.

/news/local/Andersons-daughter-205793491.html?tab=video&c=y

"I want him charged federally, but I'm happy to see him charged by somebody and that he's being detained," said Griswold.

Griswold believes that her mother is dead and that Capone killed Anderson. She said she takes a little comfort in knowing he is still behind bars because she believes that if he were to be released it would be a concern for public safety.

Rachel Anderson was last seen on May 16, 2010.

Amber, we're right there with you, the whole valley is. I didn't know your mom or your family but I have been hoping that this low life "scum" would be prosecuted for this because we "all" know in our hearts he did it. Let's hope Latah County gets him on every one of the charges.. Jail/Prison is still to "good" for this guy, it's an eye for an eye. He took a life, he should lose his.. Hope you get some peace with this and "hopefully" he'll say where he buried her so you can have some closure. Our prayers go out to you and the rest of your family.

Capone and Stone allegedly had pact to kill each other's wives

MOSCOW, ID - Wednesday, charges were filed against two Moscow men linked to the disappearance of Rachael Anderson, a Clarkston women who's been missing for three years.

For years, signs have been placed in the windows of local businesses, showing support for Rachael Anderson who went missing on April 16, 2010.

</news/local/Capone-Investigation-205888051.html?tab=video&c=y>

"What happened to her is pure evil," said Heavenly Salon and Spa Owner Sandy Weeks. "It's just, it's not right."

Capone and Stone allegedly had pact to kill each others wives.

Charges were filed against Charles Capone on Wednesday in relation to her disappearance. Capone was Anderson's husband, and she was in the process of divorcing him. Sandy Weeks said she was friends with Capone.

"Did I ever think he didn't do it? No," said Weeks. "I know he did it. I know he did."

Weeks said that he was a religious man, but he had an angry side. According to the probable cause affidavit, Capone was working on Anderson's vehicle the day she disappeared after visiting his business off South Main Street in Moscow. Capone's friend and City of Moscow employee David Stone was also there that day.

"David Stone was employed by the city as a street maintenance worker," said Moscow City Supervisor Gary Riedner.

Investigators learned that Stone and Capone allegedly had a pact to kill each other's wives through an interview with Christopher Porter, another city employee.

"Porter was a seasonal worker, so he was a part time fellow that we hired over the summer, and that would have been in 2009," said Riedner.

In 2009, investigators say that Stone asked Porter to kill his wife for $10,000. However a month before Anderson disappeared, Stone contacted Porter again, saying that he and Capone had plans to kill each other's wives. Stone would receive a large amount of money from his wife's life insurance policy. And according to court documents, Capone, a convicted felon, was concerned Anderson was going to turn him in for owning firearms, which would send him back to prison.

Capone and Stone both had their first appearances in court on Wednesday, and their preliminary hearings are scheduled for May ninth at 9 a.m..

Charles Capone transported to Latah Co. Jail.

CLARKSTON, WA - Murder charges have been filed against two Moscow men linked to the disappearance of a Clarkston woman who's been missing for three years.

First-degree murder charges were filed in Latah county against Rachel Anderson's estranged husband, 51-year-old Charles Capone and 49-year-old David Stone. Both Moscow men were charged with principal to murder in the first-degree, conspiracy to commit murder in the first-degree, and failure to notify a coroner or law enforcement of the death. Capone was scheduled to be released Wednesday because the FBI failed to federally indict him within their allotted time.

However with this new development, Capone, who has long been considered a suspect in the case was transported to Latah county where he will remain in jail.

Capone has been held in the Asotin County Jail for about nine months on a charge of 2nd-degree assault domestic battery, for allegedly attempting to strangle his estranged missing wife Rachael Anderson before that was dropped.

Anderson was last seen in the Moscow area on May 16th of 2010.

ASOTIN, WA - Charles Capone, 51, of Moscow has been held in the Asotin County Jail for about nine months on a charge of 2nd-degree assault domestic battery, for allegedly attempting to strangle his estranged and still-missing wife, Rachael Anderson.

<http://news/local/Capones-release-set-205596941.html?tab=video&c=y>

But in order to make way for a federal indictment, involving the disappearance of Rachael Anderson, the state case against Capone was dismissed one month ago. The deadline for the federal indictment is Wednesday, and with no federal charges pending, Capone is scheduled to be released after five o'clock. The Federal Bureau of Investigation has declined to comment on the matter.

Estranged husband of Rachel Anderson named as suspect.

CLARKSTON, WA - New evidence that's surfaced has changed the status of a Moscow man from a person of interest to suspect in the disappearance of a Clarkston woman.

KLEW news examines what that distinction means for the future of Charles Capone, as Rachel Anderson has been missing for three years now.

It's been three years to the day since Rachael Anderson went missing. And in the wake of the anniversary of her disappearance, the Asotin County Sheriff's Office said they have enough evidence to name her estranged husband, Charles Capone as a suspect in the case.

"At no time during this investigation have I been more confident about our ability to hold anyone involved accountable," said Asotin County Sheriff's Office Dan Hally. "We're comfortable now at this point, in naming Charles Capone as a suspect."

Anderson went missing in 2010 shortly after she filed for divorce from the 51-year-old Moscow man. Capone has always been considered a person of interest in the investigation, but Hally said they weren't able to name him a suspect until Monday.

"A case of this magnitude puts a strain on all agencies, big and small," said Hally. "And I really commend the command staff of all of the agencies involved."

Charges of 2nd-degree assault domestic battery were filed against Capone for allegedly attempting to strangle Anderson before her disappearance. But they were recently dropped to make way for a federal indictment in the case of her disappearance. He'll be held in custody until May first when the federal government decides to file charges or the local county prosecutor files charges.

"Justice will be served in this case," said Hally.

In the case that the federal or state government does not file charges by May first, Capone is scheduled to be released.

CLARKSTON, WA - The decision to dismiss an attempted strangulation case against a Moscow man, considered to be a person of interest in the 2010 disappearance of Rachel Anderson, shocked the community on Monday.

Rachael Anderson has been missing since 2010, and many in the community have closely watched the case against her estranged husband, Charles Capone, that's related to a separate incident. The case has been one of the most talked about, watched and read cases within the region. Anderson's daughter Amber Griswold and her family have been caught up in the interest generated by all the media attention.

"It is a wave of emotion," said Griswold. "Sometimes it seems like it's been a real long time and we've been waiting for results and nothing's happening and other days it feels like it just happened yesterday."

With the latest bombshell that the State case will be dismissed to make way for new federal charges against Capone, Anderson's family is cautiously hopeful.

"We were hoping for this, so it's something we've been anticipating and I didn't think it would happen as soon as it is now," said Griswold.

Griswold's caution stems from the fact that if the federal government takes no action by May first, Capone will be set free.

"The worst situation that could happen is Charles Capone be released from jail," said Griswold.

Many who were present in the Asotin County courtroom for the shocking turn of events were caught by surprise when Asotin County Prosecutor Ben Nichols and Capone's Attorney Mark Monson made a motion to dismiss the charges.

"It's just weird to see someone that doesn't have any emotion towards it himself, but what's hardest about being in court is when they bring up statements, statement that my mom has said or statements that other people have said," said Griswold.

Rachael Anderson's family continues their search for her, even though the answers and anonymous tips they seek out may bring with them a truth that no one is ever truly prepared for.

"I think that I have faced it, like I say yes I hope that we find her body, but I don't think that in reality I actually can grasp what that means," said Griswold.

Griswold said that she hopes that justice is served and that the family finds some closure and peace.

"I hope for an ending," said Griswold. "I hope to have my mom's body and be able to put her to rest."

ASOTIN, WA - A 51-year-old Moscow man, who was facing trial for 2nd degree assault domestic battery, is getting his state case dismissed to make way for a federal indictment.

Charles Capone has been held in Asotin county for the past eight months for allegedly strangling his estranged wife, Rachael Anderson, a woman who went missing in 2010 shortly after she filed for divorce. Capone is a person of interest in her disappearance.

Charles Capone

Asotin County Prosecutor Ben Nichols and Capone's Attorney Mark Monson made a motion to get the charges dismissed. Prosecutor Ben Nichols said they signed a contract to dismiss the case because federal charges for a different case are expected to be filed in the coming months.

"We are making way for the federal case, and we have been given assurances that it will be resolved no later than May first," said Nichols. "And at that point we're going to ask the court to dismiss."

If the federal government takes no action by May first, Capone is set to be released.

Delay of trial date denied for Capone assault trial

Judge Acey denies motion.

ASOTIN, WA - A series of motions were argued before Judge William Acey of the Hells Canyon Circuit Superior Court Friday as the trial for Charles Capone draws closer.

Prosecutors allege Capone attempted to strangle 40-year-old Rachael Anderson, his estranged wife, who went missing shortly after the incident. The two were married before her disappearance in 2010, and he is considered a person of interest in that case. Prosecutor Ben Nichols argued Friday morning to postpone the trial that deals with the strangulation attempt, until April.

"It will give them an opportunity to complete their investigation and provide their discovery to me," said Nichols. "It will not in any way prejudice the defense."

However, Friday in court, Judge Acey decided against changing the schedule and he says it's for the sake of the jury.

"You've got to remember I'm dealing with another county," said Acey. "They've got spring planting, they've got stuff out in the fields. It's hard for me to get juries over there seasonally."

Capone's defense attorney disagreed with moving the trial.

"It will give us an opportunity to interview their witnesses so we don't walk in not only on the eve of trial but at trial and have witnesses produced who we've never heard of or heard from," said Nichols.

However, in the end, Judge Acey still denied the motion.

"I appreciate the states suggestion may be saving a pile of money," said Acey. "You filed the case, let's go forward."

Several other motions were discussed in court regarding specific details of the case and the investigation regarding the strangulation of the missing Anderson.

Capone's trial is set for March 25th, in Dayton.

Items of evidence concern council for Capone's alleged assault case

CLARKSTON, WA - A ten minute video conference turned into a 45-minute court session for Charles Capone Monday afternoon.

With a little more than three weeks until Capone heads to trial, the prosecuting and defense attorneys in the case expressed similar concerns regarding evidence because each claims that they have not been able to examine certain items of evidence from the other. The prosecution has yet to introduce their three new witnesses, which Defense Attorney Mark Monson takes issue with.

"I can prepare for this your honor, but what I can't prepare for are statements and things that are in the sole possession of the State, that they are not going to turn over because they think it relates to a missing persons case rather than this assault case," said Monson.

"The State of Washington did away with trial by ambush a long time ago," said Asotin County Prosecutor Ben Nichols. "The defense council has an obligation under the rules of discovery as well, if they have witnesses and statements they need to provide those to me."

Judge William Acey granted several motions in court Monday, these motions gave guidelines for what's acceptable during trial. Judge Acey ruled in favor of the defense on a motion that Capone's estranged wife, Rachel Anderson, whom Capone is considered a person of interest in her disappearance, will not be referred to as a victim or the deceased, and will be referred to by her name only.

CLARKSTON, WA - An already complicated case continues to unfold as Charles Capone's former attorney has asked to be removed from the case.

Capone, 51, is facing a trial for a second-degree assault domestic violence charge for allegedly attempting to strangle his estranged wife Rachael Anderson who's been missing for two years. He's also a suspect in her disappearance, which happened a few months after she filed for divorce in 2010.

Upon finding newly discovered information regarding the case, attorney Jane Richards found that she had a conflict of interest and requested to be removed from the case. Capone is now being represented by Moscow attorney Mark Monson. The trial is scheduled to take place in Dayton, starting on March 26th.

ASOTIN, WA - A Moscow man allegedly connected in the disappearance of Rachael Anderson will not be facing trial in Asotin County because of extensive media coverage.

Charles Capone, 51, was charged with 2nd-degree assault domestic violence against his estranged wife, who went missing after he allegedly tried to strangle her just before she went missing in 2010.

<http://www.klewtv.com/news/local/Capone-trial-moved-from-Asotin-County-191126051.html?tab=video&c=y>

While the trial, which has been moved to Dayton at the Columbia County Superior Courthouse, is related to the alleged strangulation, Capone is considered to be a person of interest in Anderson's disappearance.

Charles Capone trial moved.

"One of the real downsides to moving the trial from here to Dayton is the witnesses are going to be traveling to Dayton to testify everyday and we'll have to set up some sort of mobile office in Columbia County," said Asotin County Prosecutor Ben Nichols.

Capone is currently being held in the Asotin County Jail on a $1 million bond after pleading not guilty to charges in October. Jury selection for his trial begins on March 23rd in Dayton.

ASOTIN, WA - Prosecutor Ben Nichols has announced that the trial for Charles Capone must stay in Asotin County.

Nichols said that he filed the response after Capone's defense attorney filed a motion for a change of venue. The trial stems from a domestic violence charge including second degree assault. Prosecutors allege Capone of attempting to strangle 40-year-old Rachael Anderson. The two were married before her disappearance in 2009, and he is considered a person of interest in the case.

Capone remains at the Asotin County Jail on a $1 million bond for the attempted strangulation charge.

CLARKSTON, WA - The bond for a man considered a person of interest in the disappearance of a Clarkston woman will remain at $1 million.

Fifty-one-year-old Charles Capone is being held on domestic violence charges of 2nd-degree assault. He allegedly tried to strangle 40-year-old Rachael Anderson in December of 2009. Anderson, filed for divorce after the alleged strangulation, then disappeared in April of 2010. Capone currently has no charges against him related to Anderson's disappearance.

Charles Capone during his arraignment earlier this month.

According to Prosecutor Ben Nichols, during a bond review hearing in Asotin County Superior Court Wednesday afternoon, Nichols argued that there's significant evidence that Capone has a history of intimidating witnesses and threatening victims. Judge William Acey ruled to keep his bond at $1 million dollars after citing that Capone has a high risk of violence and is a flight risk. Capone will make his next court appearance November 5th.

CLARKSTON, WA - A Moscow man, who remains a person of interest in the disappearance of a Clarkston woman, faces new charges.

Charles Capone is behind bars after a warrant for his arrest was signed Monday morning by an Asotin County Judge.

It's been nearly a year and a half since anyone's seen 40-year-old Rachael Anderson after she disappeared on April 16th, 2010. Investigators continue to search for Anderson's body and are yet to name a suspect. Charles Capone remains a person of interest in her disappearance as he is Anderson's estranged husband. Capone was arrested in May of 2010 after pleading guilty to possession of a firearm as a felon and is scheduled for release on Wednesday.

However, the Asotin County Sheriff's Office determined there was enough information to issue a warrant for Capone's arrest on a charge of Second Degree Assault stemming from an incident with Anderson.

"We approached the prosecutor with that information and he agreed that we had enough, that went to the judge and we got the warrant for his arrest," said Asotin County Sheriff Ken Bancroft.

Anderson married Capone in October 2009. Three months later, she filed for divorce and in April she disappeared. Anderson's sister Kristina Bonefield said she believes Capone is responsible for her disappearance, is ready for justice to be served and for her sister to come home.

"I don't think he deserves to be a free man ever," said Bonefield. "For what he's caused and done to our family, and to my sister, and to her children above all else."

"We're not giving up hope yet," said Bancroft.

While Anderson's family may have their own strong suspicions about Capone's involvement in her disappearance, he's yet to be charged in direct connection with her disappearance.

A detainer has been placed on Capone who will be in Asotin County Jail no later than Thursday.

CLARKSTON - 15 months have passed since Clarkston resident Rachael Anderson went missing.

Since April of last year, resources from agencies all over the region and the FBI have been following leads and sorting through information.

"While it's true, every hour that passes evidence degrades, but there are people out there that know what happened," said Asotin Co. Sheriff's Captain Dan Hally. "And we'll continue to seek out those people."

<http://news/125609768.html?tab=video&c=y>

Hally said the task force spends countless hours on the case. Evidence has come back from the lab and investigators are evaluating the results.

"We continue to look for patterns, for anything we may have missed," said Hally. "You continue to go over data, different eyes look at it. You just have to get different perspectives."

Hally said Charles Capone, Rachael's estranged husband, is still the primary person of interest, but they're following other leads as well. He said those working the case are keeping their eyes, ears and minds open.

"The trail is still warm to determining who was involved and so we continue to pursue that trail," said Hally.

Hally said he remains confident they'll bring closure to the case. In the next few weeks, the task force will be searching some areas they've been led to. They'll be working with the University of Idaho, using some of their soil expertise and ground penetrating radar technology. Hally reminds anyone with information to contact law enforcement.

From La Nina to megaloads - 2010 was year filled with big stories

By Zach Whitney | Published: Jan 1, 2011 at 1:34 PM PST (2011-01-1T21:34:12Z)

LEWISTON - 2010 was certainly a year to remember. Big stories dominated the headlines the entire year.

In February, following the inauguration of President Obama, tea parties emerged across the country with the stated goal of pushing back against the government and returning to traditional values. At one rally in Asotin, a remark made by local tea party activist Dianne Capps, caught on tape by KLEW News, gained national attention.

"What happened to Jake when he ran with the wrong crowd? He got hung. Well, that's what I want to do with Patty Murray," said Capps.

Capps denied making the remark at first, then insisted it was about getting people to vote Murray out of office.

In March, a newly-elected city council fired Lewiston city manager Jay Krauss, citing differences in the dynamic of the relationship between Krauss and the council. Administrative Services Director Dan Marsh was appointed interim city manager.

In April the search was on in the Valley and surrounding communities for Rachael Anderson. The 40-year-old Clarkston woman disappeared on April 16th. She was reportedly last seen in Moscow by her estranged husband, Charles Capone. He was arrested in May and later convicted in federal court for unlawful firearm possession. He was also named a person of interest in Anderson's disappearance.

In June torrential rain flooded downtown Lewiston and neighborhoods around the Valley. Federal mandates to improve stormwater drainage put the cities of Lewiston and Clarkston in a difficult situation as they tried to impose stormwater fees to pay for the updates. Lewiston's fee was overturned when it was deemed an abuse of authority, Clarkston's was challenged by a petition calling for its repeal and put on an upcoming ballot.

A llama on the loose in Lewiston created a headache for homeowners and law enforcement. The llama spent over a week on the lam before it was caught, only to escape from it's holding pen. Deputies were finally able to capture the animal and she was adopted by a local family.

Over the summer, a group of Lewiston residents tried, but were unsuccessful, recalling Mayor Kevin Poole, Mayor Pro Tem Brad Cannon and Council Members Thyra Stevenson and Dennis Ohrtman. The group behind the petition included the former mayor Doug Havens and former councilor Jim Kluss.

They said the four recall targets misused tax dollars and acted inappropriately in their positions. Concerns grew when a 3 percent property tax increase was proposed in the 2011 budget.

"And it's not correct to believe that the citizens who are being ravaged by a deep recession shelter those of the public world from the economic downturn," said Kluss.

The group came up short of the signatures needed. In the end the council approved the budget without an increase in property taxes.

In October Lewiston residents voted down a bond measure that would have built a new high school. Talks of a new school started early in the year. In the end, the measure fell just short of the 66 and 2/3 percent vote it needed to pass. The citizens group is recommending the school district try again next year.

And perhaps the biggest story of 2010, at least in terms of physical size, weight and coverage has to do with four megaloads. The ConocoPhillips loads arrived at the port of Lewiston bound for Billings, Montana back in May and right away there were strong opinions on both sides of the fence.

Opponents of the loads, citing safety and economic concerns, challenged the plan all the way to the Idaho Supreme Court, which ruled it had no jurisdiction in the matter and directed it back to ITD for a hearing.

An independent hearing officer, Boise attorney Merlyn Clark, ruled this past week that opponents had no cause to intervene.

Opponents are still awaiting the final issuance of permits by ITD Director Brian Ness. Meanwhile the first of over 200 ExxonMobil mega loads arrived and wait at the port.

And La Nina came to town in 2010, with wind storms that destroyed homes, pulled up trees with 85 mph gusts on the Palouse and Clearwater Valley and generally created havoc.

As the year ended, the weather phenomena led to the second of two major winter storm systems crashing into the region.

Strong winds whipped snow all over the Inland Northwest. Both U.S. 95 and 195 were closed Wednesday, an event that was a repeat of another severe winter three years ago.

The year ended with cold temperatures, but beautiful clear and blue skies.

COEUR D'ALENE - The Moscow man named as a person of interest in the disappearance of Rachael Anderson was sentenced on a weapons charge in federal court Monday.

Capone, 49, appeared in U.S. District Court in Coeur d'Alene where he was sentenced to two years and nine months in prison for being a felon in possession of a firearm.

Assistant U.S. attorney Mike Mitchell said Capone was also sentenced to three years of probation and a $3,000 fine. Mitchell said two people spoke on Capone's behalf before the sentencing.

The family of Rachael Anderson were also present in the courtroom. Mitchell said they wore t-shirts and buttons with Anderson's name and pictures.

In July, Capone pled guilty to the charge. Capone was arrested in May on the gun charges.

Anderson is Capone's estranged wife and has been missing since April. Investigators said Capone is the last person to report seeing her.

LEWISTON - Stalking isn't love. That's the message the daughters of Rachael Anderson are spreading at this week's Nez Perce County Fair.

"We are getting information out there, letting people know she is still missing," said Rachael's daughter Amber Griswold. "We still need their help to find her and we have information out here from the YWCA on what to do if someone is stalking you or how to get a protection order."

"Its so hard to get help with stalking," said another daughter, Ashley Colbert.

Anderson has been missing since April 16th. Griswold said she hopes their presence at the fair will bring in new tips as well as raise awareness about stalking.

"My mom was stalked for months before she went missing," said Griswold. "She was stalked severely. Day and night."

Griswold said they get email updates from the Rachael Anderson Task Force about the ongoing investigation each week, but she said there hasn't been much new information lately.

The daughters say they suspect Anderson's estranged husband, Charles Capone, was behind their mom's stalking and disappearance.

Capone is set to be sentenced next week on federal charges of being a felon in possession of a firearm next week. He has been called a person of interest in Anderson's disappearance.

MOSCOW - The Rachael Anderson Task Force is hoping to get more information from Charles Capone.

Capone is being held in the Boundary County Jail without bail on federal charges of unlawful possession of a firearm by a felon.

Captain Dan Hally, of the Asotin County Sheriff's Office, and a lead investigator on the task force, said Monday that Capone's statements to the media that he wants to talk to investigators, would be welcome, if that is what he really wants to do.

Hally said they continue to review data along with new tips about the whereabouts of Rachael Anderson and her contacts on April 16th in Moscow and Clarkston.

Capone, Anderson's estranged husband, was the last person to report seeing Anderson on the 16th in Moscow.

Hally said they are also continuing to develop information regarding possible stalking activity with Anderson as the target.

The task force has yet to get results back from the state crime lab for testing done on the White GMC Yukon that Anderson was reportedly driving before she disappeared. It was found in North Lewiston on April 21st.

The task force is asking that anyone who noticed suspicious activity, possibly involving the SUV, on the COEUR D'ALENE - Charles Capone of Moscow was indicted by a federal grand jury in Coeur d'Alene Tuesday. .

Capone was indicted on two counts of unlawful possession of a firearm by a felon. Capone, 48, was arrested in Moscow on May 6.

Federal court records indicate he is a person of interest in the disappearance of Rachael Anderson of Clarkston, although the task force investigating her disappearance has not officially named Capone, Anderson's estranged husband, as a person of interest.

Anderson was reportedly last seen by Capone in Moscow on April 16, the last time anyone saw her. Investigators say Anderson filed a report with Clarkston Police in January, claiming that Capone had strangled her.

Captain Dan Halley of the Asotin County Sheriff's Office, who is a lead investigator with the Rachael Anderson task force, says he learned of the indictment from Moscow Police Tuesday.

Capone faces up to 10 years in jail and a fine up to $250,000 on each count.

Capone is being held in the Boundary County Jail without bail.

MOSCOW - Charles Capone, the estranged husband of missing Clarkston woman Rachael Anderson, remains in custody in Bonner County, held without bail on a federal charge of felon in possession of a firearm.

Business neighbors of Capone say they knew of his criminal history, but that he was a "real friendly guy."

"He worked hard, he stayed late in the evenings," said owner of LaMoreaux Photography and Studio Mark LaMoreaux. "He was always busy and seemed to be very personable and friendly. Fast, fast in everything. He was fast."

LaMoreaux's business is in the same building as Capone's shop, Palouse Multiple Services. Neighbors remember seeing Capone's estranged wife, Rachael Anderson, at the business shortly before her disappearance last month and say they understand why detectives would be interested in Capone in the matter.

But LaMoreaux said he always got along with Capone and thought he was trying to make a clean start, despite his past.

"Hopefully he'll come out of this alright," said LaMoreaux. "I really like the guy. I think everybody that knew him here did. I'd like to see him make good somehow."

Some business neighbors did not want to be identified, saying Capone was a "little odd" and had what they called "obvious women troubles."

Investigator says decision to keep Capone in jail a good one

By Stephanie Smith | Published: May 11, 2010 at 9:35 PM PST (2010-05-12T5:35:22Z)

CLARKSTON - Charles Capone is in custody and Captain Dan Hally says that is a win for the prosecution as well as the Valley community.

Hally, with the Asotin County Sheriff's Office, argued at Monday's federal detention hearing in Coeur d'Alene that Capone, who is charged with being a felon in possession of a firearm, remain behind bars.

"We provided information which we believe shows Capone would be a flight risk," said Hally. "He had provided information to a former wife of his that he had planned to sell his shop and move to Arizona. Then we also addressed statements Rachael Anderson had made to me on April 13th, regarding an alleged attempt that Charles Capone had attempted to strangle her."

Hally is the lead investigator for the task force looking into the disappearance of Anderson. Capone is her estranged husband.

She filed for divorce in January and has been missing since April 16. In court documents, an ATF agent names Capone as a person of interest in Anderson's disappearance. But Hally said the task force has yet to do the same.

"We have not focused the investigation on one single individual, that ensures that we aren't missing things," said Hally. "He is certainly somebody that we're talking to, but there are several others as well. So the task force, neither myself or any other members, have identified him specifically as a person of interest."

Hally said friends and family of Capone wrote letters on his behalf to be presented at the detention hearing. Also in the courtroom at Monday's hearing were friends and family of Rachael Anderson.

Hally said Capone seemed subdued and attentive at the hearing, but did not speak. No word yet on when Capone's next court date will be.

Feds holding on to Capone

COUER D'ALENE (AP) - A federal judge on Monday ordered the husband of Rachael Anderson held in jail on a firearms count.

Charles A. Capone is charged with being a felon in possession of a firearm.

He was ordered to remain in jail after a detention hearing in Coeur d'Alene. He was arrested at his business last week in Moscow.

40-year-old Anderson, Capone's estranged wife, has been missing since April 16.

Federal court records indicate Capone is a person of interest in Anderson's disappearance and that she filed a report with Clarkston police on Jan. 2 alleging he had pushed and strangled her. She filed for divorce on Jan. 7.

Prosecutors told the judge about Capone's convictions for bank larceny, aggravated assault, burglary, criminal mischief, vehicle burglary, trespassing, assault, theft and possession of a controlled substance.

A task force formed to investigate Anderson's disappearance says Capone was the last person to report seeing Anderson. That was on April 16 in Moscow.

Anderson had reported being a victim of malicious mischief, harassment and stalking.

Last week Anderson's family said they hoped Capone's incarceration would lead him to give police information about Anderson's whereabouts.

Among those scheduled to testify Monday was Captain Dan Hally of the Asotin County Sheriff's Office, lead investigator of the task force.

Anderson's vehicle and cell phone were located after she disappeared. The vehicle in north Lewiston near a bus stop and the cell phone at a location not disclosed by investigators.

Capone arraigned in federal court

COEUR d'ALENE - The federal case against Charles A. Capone names him as a person of interest in the disappearance of his estranged wife Rachael Anderson, who has been missing for three weeks.

Capone, 48, was arrested at his place of business Thursday morning in Moscow by Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms agents for being a felon in possession of a firearm.

Capone was arraigned in U.S. District Court in Coeur d'Alene via video Thursday morning before federal Magistrate Judge Larry Boyle. Court records say the prosecution is requesting Capone be held with no bail prior to trial. The prosecution cites a serious risk that Capone will flee and poses a danger to others.

A preliminary exam and detention hearing will be held on Monday afternoon.

According to documents filed in federal court, Chase Ervin went to Moscow Police on April 28th saying in February he gave a 40 caliber pistol to Capone as collateral for a truck Ervin wanted to buy. But then he decided he didn't have enough money for the truck so went to ask for the gun back, but was told it was at a friend's house and that the friend was out of town.

Then in March Ervin says Capone gave him $450 dollars for the gun. The next day the task force investigating Anderson's disappearance searched the home of Robert Bogden in Viola. Capone had reportedly stayed there from February to April 20th.

Bogden told police that Capone followed Rachael in mid-February to see if she was seeing another man. Bogden said Capone carried a gun with him while he followed Anderson. The model 22 Glock was seized by police at Bogden's home.

Police say Capone stopped staying at the house because Bogden was leaving on a trip and was concerned about the investigation into Anderson's disappearance.

Capone faces up to 10 years in jail and a fine up to $250,000 if convicted.

Capone has a criminal history, including bank larceny, aggravated assault and burglary.

Anderson filed a report with Clarkston Police on January 2 saying Capone pushed and strangled her. She signed divorce papers on January 6. The two were married in September of last year.

Police say Capone was the last person who reported seeing Anderson on April 16.

'I knew him well enough to know that I didn't like him'

By Stephanie Smith | Published: May 6, 2010 at 6:08 PM PST (2010-05-7T2:08:43Z)

LEWISTON - Members of Rachael Anderson's family say they are happy that Charles Capone was arrested Thursday and hope it leads them to answers.

"I knew him well enough to know that I didn't like him," said Rachael's daughter Amber Griswold.

Griswold said her mom married Capone in September but quickly wanted an annulment.

"She was so excited to get married to him, she wanted to be with him forever," said Griswold. "She thought it was like a fairy tale. She was basically tricked into it, that's what I felt like."

Anderson filed for divorce in January, just days after her family says Capone choked her. But Amber said there were many other incidents before that.

"'He's grabbing something, it looks sharp, his stabbing the tire,' she's (Rachael) like screaming this over the phone, so scared," said Griswold. "I don't remember how she made it home that night. I think a friend came and got her."

Amber said those are the reasons why the family thinks Capone was the person stalking and harassing their mother and perhaps knows about her whereabouts.

"(We said) it's Charles mom, it's Charles, we know it's Charles," said Griswold. "But he would say 'I'm getting text messages too. I'm getting voicemails like that too. I'm getting stalked also.' So, it was kind of a common thread where she could call him and say 'are you getting text messages too? What are they saying?'"

On Friday there will be a bake sale from 7:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at St. Joe's, just outside of the cafeteria, to help pay for expenses for the family.

On Mother's Day, Sunday, at 8 p.m., the family is holding a candlelight vigil in Beachview Park.

ATF arrests estranged husband of Rachael Anderson on firearms charge

MOSCOW - The estranged husband of Rachael Anderson was arrested in Moscow Thursday.

Moscow Assistant Police Chief David Duke said 48-year-old Charles Capone was arrested at his place of business in Moscow by Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms agents at 10 a.m.

That business, Palouse Multiple Services, is located at 2216 South Main. Duke says Capone was not arrested in connection with Anderson's disappearance, but on a charge of Convicted Felon in Possession of a Firearm, based on evidence gathered in a previous search of his business.

Duke said that at a pre-warrant meeting Thursday morning, it was decided that Capone would be transported by ATF to Couer d'Alene to be booked on the federal charge.

According to court records, Anderson, who has been missing from her Clarkston home since April 16th, was seeking a divorce from Capone. Clarkston Police Chief Joel Hastings confirmed Thursday that Capone was the last person to report seeing Anderson on April 16.

A multi-agency task force is continuing to work to find Anderson. The vehicle she was driving was located in North Lewiston on April 21. Her cell phone was located on April 26, but investigators are not saying where it was found.

According to the Latah County Prosecutor's office, Capone pleaded guilty to Aggravated Assault and Burglary in 1997 and ended up on probation after a period of local incarceration on those charges. In 2005 he was arrested for a probation violation and served 14 days in jail. He was released from probation in December 2007.

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) -- Officials in Latah County say a man who reached a plea agreement in the April 2010 disappearance of a Clarkston, Wash., woman recently offered information that prosecutors hope will help locate her body.

WATCH: Rachael Anderson's accused killer pleads guilty to lesser charge

David Stone of Moscow pleaded guilty Wednesday to failure to notify law enforcement of the death of Rachael Anderson. Prosecutor William Thompson Jr. says Stone has agreed to testify about what happened after he arrived at the alleged crime scene.

Anderson's estranged husband, Charles Capone, faces trial for first-degree murder on March 31.

Thompson said detectives interviewed Stone twice last month and believe he was not responsible for Anderson's death, but helped cover it up.

Thompson says last month's search of the Snake River west of Clarkston, Wash., was related, in part, to what Stone told investigators.

LATAH COUNTY, Idaho—One of the two men charged in connection with Rachael Anderson's disappearance changed his not-guilty plea Wednesday. David Stone, 49, pleaded guilty to one count of failure to notify coroner or law enforcement of a death in Second District Court. Stone faces seven to ten years in prison.

Other charges against Stone would be dropped as part of the plea agreement. A prosecutor said Stone talked to two investigators in December. The prosecutor also said Stone was not involved in the murder but instead acted as a cover up. The prosecutor also said Stone agreed to testify against the other suspect in the case.

WATCH: Moscow man denies charges in wife's disappearance

Stone and Charles A. Capone, 52, were charged with the murder of Anderson. The Clarkston woman vanished in April 2012. Anderson, 40, was last seen at Capone's shop in Moscow. Her body has not been found.

Investigators wrote that Stone and Capone conspired from January 2010 to April 2010 to murder Anderson. Documents alleged that Capone and Stone stalked and followed the victim. The documents alleged that Capone and/or Stone put Ambien into Anderson's beer during the visit and killed her. Investigators said Capone and Stone later hid and disposed of Anderson's body. The pair also cleaned the Yukon to destroy evidence of the murder according to records. They also stated that the suspects drove the Yukon from Latah County to Lewiston and sent text messages from Anderson's phone to hide her death.

Authorities searched for a body along the Snake River in Asotin County in November. It happened after a tip came in from two fishermen who believed they found a body near Hells Canyon Marina in Clarkston. The tip promoted speculation that it may be tied to the murder of Anderson. Officials would not confirm that but said they felt confident they would get a conviction in that case, with or without a body.

The prosecutor said Stone has given information that investigators hope will help them locate Anderson's body.

The court set trial for Capone in January.

ASOTIN COUNTY.--A tip came from two fishermen who believed they nearly reeled in a body from the Snake River.

The Spokane County Sheriff's Office dive team is helping with the search in an area west of Clarkston. Six deputies and a sergeant from Spokane made the trip down to help.

Authorities have declined to comment whether the search may be for the body of Rachael Anderson.

WATCH: Judge rules enough evidence for trial in Rachael Anderson case

The Clarkston woman was last seen in April 2010. Her estranged husband, Charles Capone, and another man are scheduled to go to trial in 2014 for her murder.

Many have speculated that the river search is tied to the murder of Anderson. Officials are not ready to confirm that under advice from the Latah County Prosecutor.

The fisherman said they came across what they believed to be a gruesome discovery.

"They kept snagging something on the bottom. They used their anchor to try and figure out what it was. They were able to snag with their anchor, but when they brought it up to the surface, it broke loose," said Captain Dan Hally with the Asotin County Sheriff's Office.

The men were never able to get a good look at their find but reported to law enforcement that they suspected it was a body.

"They indicated there could have been some tarp around it. Maybe some cable, or barb wire," said Hally Latah County Sheriff Wayne Rausch was not able to confirm that the search is related to the Anderson case. He said his detectives are working close with officials in Asotin County.

Captain Hally said it could be related to a number of missing person's cases. He said they will keep going until there is not a stone left unturned.

"We want to make sure based on the credible information these individuals provided, that we do everything we can to locate someone that may be in the river. Really we'll suspend the search if we locate something that matches the description or we've exhausted all our resources," said Hally.

The search will resume on Wednesday. Spokane County Deputies were in the water all day Tuesday looking.

ASOTIN COUNTY, Wash. -- The Spokane County Sheriff's Office assisted with a call Tuesday in Asotin County.

Crews were expected to be on the water all day.

Divers were expected to explore the Snake River near the Northwest corner of Clarkston. There were six deputies from the SCSO Emergency Operations team involved in the search.

This comes as crews called off a search last Friday for a body that might be in the Snake River.

There are several active missing person cases in the area, but authorities didn't specifically link the recent search with any of those cases.

Latah County Prosecutor William Thompson Jr. declined to comment when asked if the search may be for the body of Rachael Anderson, a Clarkston woman who was last seen in April 2010. Her estranged husband, Charles A. Capone, and David C. Stone face trial next year on murder charges.

LATAH COUNTY, Idaho -- Two men charged with murder and conspiracy in the disappearance of a Clarkston woman will get separate trials.

Rachel Anderson disappeared more than three years ago. Police said that her estranged husband Charles Capone murdered her with his friend David Stone. Capone pleaded guilty to the charges in August.

The Latah County prosecutors office filed a motion to combine the two trials because they would include the same evidence and witnesses. But a judge decided to hold separate trials for the defendants, saying that it would be fairer for the two men.

Capone's trial is set to begin December 9th.

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) -- An Idaho judge determined there is probable cause to try two Moscow men in the death of a Clarkston, Wash., woman who went missing more than three years ago.

2nd District Court Magistrate John C. Judgemade the ruling Thursday after a three-day preliminary hearing for 52-year-old Charles A. Capone and 49-year-old

000943

David C. Stone.

The men are charged with first-degree murder and conspiracy to commit first-degree murder in the death of Capone's estranged wife, Rachael Anderson. Her body has not been found.

Testimony at the preliminary hearing indicated Anderson died at Capone's shop in April 2010, where she was last seen with both men. Capone reportedly bought a tarp the next morning.

Defense attorneys argued there was no evidence of Anderson's death in the state of Idaho.

The pre-trial hearing began Tuesday morning in the case.

Investigators believe Capone was the last person to see Rachel Anderson alive. Anderson's Family said Capone stalked her after they separated and she disappeared months later.

Anderson's oldest daughter, Amber Griswold and a man who says Stone originally asked him to kill Stone's wife and later stated he and Capone were going to kill each other's wives may testify for the prosecution.

Witnesses also include a number of officers, detectives and deputies from Lewiston and Moscow.

Stone's attorney questioned the Captain why he didn't record the interview with Stone during the murder investigation.

The Latah County Prosecutor will not seek the death penalty for Charles Capone and David Stone if they are convicted of murder.

Court documents stated that Capone murdered Anderson with the abatement of David Christopher Stone, 49. Authorities arrested Stone Wednesday. Stone and Capone both faced a judge in Latah County the same afternoon.

Capone and Stone were charged with principal to murder in the first degree, conspiracy to commit murder in the first degree, failure to notify coroner or law enforcement of death, conspiracy to commit failure to notify coroner or law enforcement of death according to court records.

Investigators wrote that Stone and Capone conspired from January 2010 to April 2010 to murder Anderson. Documents alleged that Capone and Stone stalked, and followed the victim.

The couple separated on December 27th, 2009 and filed for divorce on January 6th, 2010. Capone demanded that Anderson decide by April 16th, 2010 whether she was going to continue divorce proceedings.

Court documents stated that Capone text messaged and called Anderson to lure her to his business near Moscow. All three people met April 16th at Capone's business, Multiple Service, along South Main Street. Documents alleged that Anderson came to pick up her vehicle. She borrowed a Yukon from a friend to drive to the shop.

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) -- Moscow Police Department detectives are coming under criticism from defense lawyers and a judge for recording over a key portion of an interview with a man accused of killing his wife.

The development surfaced Wednesday during a preliminary hearing for Charles Capone and David Stone. Both are facing murder charges for their roles in the disappearance of Capone's estranged wife, Rachael Anderson.

Moscow Police Lt. James Fry said Wednesday he wishes he would have preserved a recorded interview with Capone three years ago. During that interview, detectives say Capone said he didn't kill Anderson but knew where her body was.

Fry said they later taped over the statement because the recording also contained taped conversations between Capone and his attorney.

Magistrate John C. Judge called the loss a big oversight.

The pre-trial hearing began Tuesday morning in the case. Court documents stated that the hearing could last as long as three days.

The prosecutor and defense attorney are looking into what should be admissible in court. Both Charles Capone and David Stone sat with their individual attorneys.

LATAH COUNTY, Wash. -- The Latah County Prosecutor will not seek the death penalty for Charles Capone and David Stone if they are convicted of murder. Both men are charged with the death of Rachael Anderson, 40.

Capone is Anderson's estranged husband. He is charged with first degree murder for the 2010 death of Anderson.

Capone's estranged wife vanished in April 16th, 2010 as the couple was preparing to divorce.

Court documents stated that Capone murdered Anderson with the abatement of David Christopher Stone, 49. Authorities arrested Stone Wednesday. Stone and Capone both faced a judge in Latah County the same afternoon.

Capone and Stone were charged with principal to murder in the first degree, conspiracy to commit murder in the first degree, failure to notify coroner or law enforcement of death, conspiracy to commit failure to notify coroner or law enforcement of death according to court records.

Investigators wrote that Stone and Capone conspired from January 2010 to April 2010 to murder Anderson. Documents alleged that Capone and Stone stalked, and followed the victim.

The couple separated on December 27th, 2009 and filed for divorce on January 6th, 2010. Capone demanded that Anderson decided by April 16th, 2010 whether she was going to continue divorce proceedings.

Court documents stated that Capone text messaged and called Anderson to lure her to his business near Moscow. She borrowed a Yukon from a friend to drive to the shop.

The documents alleged that Capone and/or Stone put Ambien into Anderson's beer during the visit and killed her. Investigators said Capone and Stone later hid and disposed of Anderson's body. The pair also cleaned the Yukon to destroy evidence of the murder according to records. They also stated that the suspects drove the Yukon from Latah County to Lewiston and sent text messages from Anderson's phone to hide her death.

The duo initially denied any involvement in Anderson's death.

Authorities arrested Capone May 6th, 2012 on a federal warrant for being a felon in possession of a firearm. He was taken to the Bonner County Jail and placed in a cell with inmate Joshua Voss. Court documents stated that Capone told Voss, "they also think I killed my wife, but I am not worried because they will never find the body."

000950

Voss reported the comments four days later. Documents stated that Voss was nearly done with his sentence and did not receive any change in his on situation for providing the details.

Capone pleaded guilty to the firearms charge in 2010 and served two years. He was transferred to the Asotin County Jail in September 2012. Prosecutors in Asotin County charged Capone with strangling Anderson before she vanished. Court documents stated that the attack happened in December 2009.

Capone's cellmate in Asotin County eventually came forward with new details for investigators in January 2013. Capone allegedly told his cellmate that if he was going to kill someone, he would put them in a big tarp, wait until the blood coagulated, cut the body up and dissolve it in car parts washer.

Investigators found a large car parts washer when they searched Capone's auto shop.

The cellmate went on to tell investigators that Capone got angry at an inmate and yelled "don't make me cut up another body."

Court documents stated that the inmate said Capone also made comments about burring a body. Capone allegedly stated that authorities would never find Anderson's body.

He told them that Capone described what happened the night Anderson disappeared. Capone told the inmate that Anderson threatened to turn him in for being a felon in possession of a firearm according to court documents. Capone allegedly told the inmate that he slipped an Ambien into Anderson's beer "to shut her up." He then decided he had "no choice" and was going to "end it all," according to the court records.

Capone has been in custody in Clarkston since October 2012. He previously served time for being a felon in possession of a firearm. Capone was convicted in September 2010. He also served time in 1998 for burglary and aggravated assault. Court documents showed Capone also was convicted of bank larceny and attempted armed robbery.

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) -- A northern Idaho judge has rejected a request by a Moscow man charged with helping another man kill his wife to be released on his own recognizance or have bail set.

The 2nd District Court Judge John Judge rejected 49-year-old David Stone's request Thursday.

Stone and 51-year-old Charles Capone of Clarkston, Wash., are both charged with first-degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder in the death of Capone's estranged wife, Rachael Anderson of Lewiston.

She was 40 when she disappeared three years ago and her body hasn't been found.

Judge also delayed a preliminary hearing for the case to June 27 after Latah County Prosecutor Bill Thompson cited a large amount of evidence and documents still being copied for defense attorneys.

Both defendants waived their right to a speedy trial.

MOSCOW, Idaho-- Court documents stated that Charles Capone told a cellmate details which could explain what happened to his estranged wife. Rachael Anderson vanished in 2010, but only on Wednesday was Capone charged in her murder.

Authorities arrested Capone and David Stone for Anderson's death. Since her death, Capone had been in prison on federal firearm charges and most recently for an assault charge.

Capone's cellmate in Asotin County came forward in early 2013 with new details for investigators looking into the Anderson's death. Capone allegedly told his cellmate that if he was going to kill someone, he would put them in a big tarp, wait until the blood coagulated, cut the body up and dissolve it in car parts washer.

Documents state that Capone had owned a parts washer. It was kept at his auto shop, Multiple Service.

On Thursday, KREM 2 News tracked down the man who may own that very piece of machinery.

Tim Fountain said his brother bought the parts washer after Capone went to prison for illegally possessing a firearm. Capone's brother auctioned off the felon's belongings according to Fountain.

"I always assumed it was used for cleaning car parts, but it has a different residue at the bottom of this darn thing that looked kind of to me like bone dust," said Fountain.

He said he has seen bone dust in an urn

Court documents said that Capone told his cellmate that a car parts washer will reach 1,300 degrees and will dissolve a body.

MOSCOW, Idaho-- The Latah County Prosecutor charged Charles Capone and David Stone with murder on Wednesday. Anderson vanished in 2010 and her body was never found. Capone was Anderson's estranged husband.

Capone owned and ran an auto shop at the time his wife disappeared. Authorities said Multiple Service; along South Main Street was the last place Anderson was seen.

Several people who knew Capone told KREM 2 News in Thursday that they are not surprised by the arrest.

"He was a little bit of an odd character. I wouldn't throw him right in with the normal group of people," said Jake Stewart.

Stewart manufactures jewelry and custom pieces out of his shop in this Moscow Business Park near Capone's former business. He said he met Capone a couple times in passing. Stewart said he was not surprised that Capone was charged Wednesday for Anderson's murder.

"I think that the presumption has always been," said Stewart, "I don't think there was anyone that really questioned if he was involved, with his wife's disappearance."

Anderson's daughter said she also thought Capone killed her mother.

Authorities also arrested a second murder suspect on Wednesday. David Stone also faces charged of helping plot the murder of Anderson.

MOSCOW, Idaho-- The arrests of two men for the murder of Rachael Anderson left people in Moscow shocked on Thursday.

The Latah County Prosecutor charged Charles Capone and David Stone with murder on Wednesday. Anderson vanished in 2010 and her body was never found. Capone was Anderson's estranged husband.

Court documents released Wednesday said Capone collaborated with Stone to kill

Anderson. Yet, people who know Stone told KREM 2 News that they are not buying the murder allegations.

“I thought he was good guy, active member of the department. He hosted church small group at his house,” said Jason Croston.

Croston has known Stone for years. Both men volunteered for the Moscow Fire Department. He heard about the murder charges and described it as shocking.

“I've never heard anyone say anything bad about him,” said Croston, “he was a funny guy to talk to, always spoke his mind. He never pulled punches you knew what he was thinking.”

Stone was also a coach and used to work for the city of Moscow.

Neighbors of the Stone family also cannot believe the news. Neighbor, Nancy Kaske said Stone lived with his wife and often spends time with this stepdaughter.

“There's just no way. There is no way, no way he's involved,” said Kaske. Stone and Capone return to court Thursday, May 9th at 9:00 a.m. according to the prosecutor.

Murder victim's estranged husband allegedly admitted to her murder

LATAH COUNTY, Idaho -- Authorities investigated Rachael Anderson's estranged husband Charles Capone for years following her disappearance. Now, Capone is charged for her murder, along with another man.

Anderson hasn't been seen since April 2010. Her body is still missing.

It took three years to piece together enough pieces of evidence to charge Capone and David Stone. The Latah County prosecutor says both suspects have been people of interest from the very beginning.

“When we look back at the entirety of the information, we believe there is sufficient information to justify filing charges,” Prosecutor Bill Thompson said.

Court documents outline what may have been contributing factors. It appears Capone, the main suspect in the case, spilled too much information to some of his fellow inmates in jail.

Capone served time in Bonner County Jail on federal weapons charges the same year his wife went missing. He reportedly told another inmate, “They also think I killed my wife, but I am not worried because they will never find the body.”

Anderson’s family is happy to see a development in the case.

“I want him charged federally, but I’m happy to see him charged by somebody and that he’s being detained,” Amber Griswold, Anderson’s daughter, said.

Stone reportedly worked for the City of Moscow and coached baseball at the local high school. His team describes him as funny and normal and calls his arrest surprising.

Prosecutor Thompson says the case is moving along again, and investigators will continue to look for Anderson.

“I think there are still a lot of unanswered questions. As for where Rachael is, we hope, for her family’s sake, we’ll be able to answer that,” he said.

MOSCOW, Idaho -- A Moscow man, who remains a person of interest in the disappearance of his estranged wife, was officially charged with assaulting her Monday.

Rachael Anderson, a 41-year-old Clarkston resident, was last seen April 16, 2010 by Charles Capone, the man she was in the process of divorcing.

The Asotin County Sheriff's Office named Capone a person of interest in his wife's disappearance, but investigators did not have enough evidence to press charges.

Capone appeared in court Monday on Second Degree Assault charges. He is being held in the Asotin County Jail on $1 million bond. He is due back in court to enter a plea October 22nd.

Capone is accused of strangling Anderson before her 2010 disappearance.

Investigators had been holding onto the evidence in the assault case. Capone was officially charged with the crime now because he was just released from Federal prison.

Capone pleaded guilty in 2010 to an unrelated Federal firearms charge. Almost as soon as he got out on that charge, County prosecutors were waiting with the assault charges which sent Capone back to jail.

Investigators said Anderson filed for divorce after the alleged strangulation.

Anderson's family said Capone started stalking her after they separated. She disappeared just months later.

Detectives say Capone was the last person to see Anderson alive.

ASOTIN COUNTY--Two years after Rachael Anderson disappeared her daughters are looking for closure.

Investigators in Asotin County have not found Anderson's body or named a suspect, but say they have active leads. The Sheriff's office says they're still pursuing those leads and are waiting on evidence from the crime lab.

Details of what happened to the missing Clarkston mother remain sparse. Detectives have scoured counties in Washington, Idaho and even Montana.

Charles Capone is Anderson's estranged husband and a person of interest in her disappearance. The couple married the October before she went missing and by February their relationship was deteriorating and Anderson was seeking a divorce. Capone is currently serving time on an unrelated weapons charge.

Anderson's daughters say she was last seen in Moscow and her way to meet Capone and maybe others. The daughters believe other people may be involved in their mother's disappearance and that's why their speaking out. They're seeking new information from the public and fresh leads from detectives.

Charles Capone's sentence is up this September.

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) — A northern Idaho man named a person of interest in his estranged wife's disappearance has been sentenced to 33 months in prison for possession of a firearm in a separate case.

Charles A. Capone, of Moscow, initially faced two federal firearms charges and pleaded innocent. He later reached an agreement with prosecutors and in July, pleaded guilty to one of the charges.

Prosecutors say Capone told a friend he carried a pistol while following his wife in February to determine whether she was seeing someone else. He was arrested on the gun charges in May.

Capone is the last known person to see his wife, 41-year-old Rachael Anderson of Clarkston, Wash., in April before she disappeared. He has not been charged in his wife's disappearance, nor named a suspect.

COEUR D'ALENE -- The last known person to see a missing Clarkston woman will spend at least the next two years in jail.

Monday, Charles Capone was sentenced to 33 months in prison for a federal weapons charge.

Speaking in court, Capone said he is an honest man and believes he made a mistake.

Capone is also a person of interest in the disappearance of his estranged wife, Rachel

000977

Anderson. The firearms charge is unrelated to the Anderson case.

Anderson has been missing from her Clarkston home since April 16. Capone was arrested during the investigation for being a convicted felon in possession of a firearm. Anderson and Capone were in the process of getting divorced when she went missing.

Anderson's family attended Monday's sentencing, wearing t-shirts in support of Rachel's memory.

Anderson was last seen in Moscow on April 16. Investigators say Capone was the last known person to see Anderson before she disappeared.

Her SUV and cell phone were found in a vacant field outside Lewiston.

Capone originally pleaded not guilty to the federal weapons charge, but changed his plea to guilty in July.

Search efforts expand to find missing Clarkston woman

NEAR COLTON, Wash. -- Asotin County detectives are determined to find Rachael Anderson. A task force is now assembled to investigate tips on where the missing mother could be.

The task force combed through an area just north of Colton off 195 last week with cadaver dogs hoping to find an answer. They were working on a tip that a white SUV, similar to Anderson's, turned onto Highway 195 in Whitman County after she was reported missing.

The Clarkston woman's case is paramount for Detective Jackie Nichols. The search has take the task force to Benawah, Latah, Asotin, Whitman, and Nez Perce counties. On Friday, the search focused on Chambers Road in Whitman County. Nichols and several others searched the fields looking in old wells, ponds and barns for evidence. But nothing was found. Anderson's family is frustrated that so many questions remain.

"It's just so hard to say you're happy things are proceeding when you don't want it to be happening at all," said Anderson's daughter Amber Griswold.

Rachael Anderson was last seen in Moscow April 16. Police say her estranged husband, Charles Capone, was the last person to see her. He is awaiting sentencing on an unrelated gun possession charge in North Idaho. So far, Nichols says he is only a person of interest, and is not cooperating with the investigation.

In the meantime, Anderson's daughters ask farmers and ranchers on the Palouse to report anything suspicious that might help crack the case.

Capone originally pleaded not guilty in May when he was arrested on the charge. Capone is a convicted felon, therefore not allowed to own a firearm.

000985

Capone is the former husband of Rachel Anderson, missing from Clarkston since May. Her SUV and cell phone were located near Lewiston shortly after her disappearance, but there has been no other sign of her since then.

Anderson was filing for divorce from Capone at the time she went missing.

Anderson's daughter told KREM 2 News she believes Capone may have played a role in their mother's disappearance, and may have also been stalking her.

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) -- Detectives say the pace of tips about the whereabouts of missing woman last seen in April has slowed.

Meanwhile, Rachael Anderson's estranged husband -- the last known person to see her -- remains in an Idaho jail awaiting separate federal weapons charges.

Anderson has been missing since April 16. Early this year, the Clarkston, Wash., resident petitioned for divorce after alleging her husband, Charles Capone, strangled and shoved her.

The tips are still coming in, but "it's obviously a lot slower than it was to begin with," says Clarkston Police Detective Dan Combs.

Amber Griswold, Anderson's oldest daughter, says waiting for word of her mother has been difficult for the family. Anderson's birthday earlier this month was especially tough.

COEUR D'ALENE -- Charles Capone, 48, of Moscow, Idaho, was indicted last week by a federal grand jury sitting in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, on two counts of unlawful possession of a firearm, the U.S. Attorney's Office announced.

Capone was arraigned Thursday and a jury trial was set for July 6, 2010, in Coeur d'Alene before U.S. District Judge Edward J. Lodge. Capone will remain in custody until trial.

Capone is accused of possessing a Glock .40 pistol, a Remington .270 rifle and a Mossberg 12 gauge shotgun, after being convicted of crimes punishable by imprisonment exceeding one year; specifically, aggravated assault and burglary in 1998 in Latah County, Idaho, and bank larceny in 1997.

The case was investigated by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives, and is prosecuted as part of Idaho's Project Safe Neighborhoods Program, which seeks to reduce gun violence in Idaho.

An indictment is a means of charging a person with criminal activity. It is not evidence.

The person is presumed innocent until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt in a court of law.

Capone is the estranged husband of a missing woman from Clarkston, Rachel Anderson, 40. Anderson has been missing since late April. Her cell phone and SUV were found shortly after she was reported missing in a field near Lewiston, ID.

Family members told KREM 2 News they believe Anderson was being stalked by an unknown caller prior to her disappearance, sending text messages indicating someone was watching her.

Capone has only been named as a person of interest in Anderson's disappearance.

LEWISTON, Idaho -- The husband of a woman missing since April threatened a separate woman more than a decade ago and served time in prison, according to court records.

Charles Capone of Moscow is being held in federal custody in Bonner County without bail, awaiting hearings on charges of being a felon in possession of a firearm.

His estranged wife, Rachael Anderson, has been missing since April 16.

000991

Capone served time in an Idaho prison after a felony burglary and aggravated assault conviction stemming from a 1997 incident where a woman accused him of threatening her with a knife.

The Lewiston Tribune reports he was discharged from probation in 2007 by the Department of Correction.

Anderson, a Clarkston, Wash., resident, petitioned for divorce in January after alleging Capone strangled and shoved her.

She was last seen in Moscow on April 16.

Investigators have found her cell phone and the car she was driving when she disappeared in Lewiston.

Missing woman's husband ordered held on gun count

Associated Press

Posted on May 11, 2010 at 6:04 PM

COEUR d'ALENE, Idaho (AP) — A federal judge on Monday ordered the husband of a missing Clarkston, Wash., woman to be held in jail on a firearms count.

Charles Capone is charged with being a felon in possession of a firearm.

He was ordered to remain in jail after a hearing in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. He was arrested last week in Moscow.

Capone's estranged wife, 40-year-old Rachael Anderson, has been missing since April 16.

Federal court records indicate Capone is a person of interest in Anderson's disappearance and that she filed a report with Clarkston police on Jan. 2 alleging he had pushed and strangled her. She filed for divorce on Jan. 7.

KREM-TV says prosecutors told the judge about Capone convictions for bank larceny, aggravated assault, burglary, criminal mischief, vehicle burglary, trespassing, assault, theft and possession of a controlled substance.

COEUR d'ALENE, Idaho (AP) — The husband of a missing Clarkston, Wash., woman has been arraigned on a federal charge of felon in possession of a firearm.

Charles Capone was arrested at his business in Moscow on Thursday. He appeared before a Boise judge Friday via video conference from Coeur d'Alene and was ordered held pending a detention hearing Monday.

Capone's estranged wife, 40-year-old Rachael Anderson, has been missing since April 16.

Federal court records indicate Capone is a person of interest in Anderson's disappearance and that she filed a report with Clarkston police on Jan. 2 alleging he had pushed and strangled her. She filed for divorce on Jan. 7 after three months of marriage.

One of her daughters says Anderson had been receiving disturbing phone calls and feared for her life.

Court records say Capone pleaded guilty to a federal charge of felony bank larceny in October 1997.

COEUR D'ALENE-- The estranged husband of a missing mother from Clarkston just spent the afternoon answering to a judge. Family and friends watched Charles Capone's hearing in federal court. They say they are happy with how it went.

Authorities arrested Capone last week. Prosecutors paint Capone as a violent man with a long criminal history. They laid out every crime Capone's been convicted of, every arrest, and every police report against him all to keep him off the streets and in jail.

000996

Outside federal court in Coeur d'Alene there is a poster in a car window of missing mom Rachel Anderson. Her daughter, Amber Griswold, says Anderson's husband knows more than he's telling.

Capone was arrested, not for his wife's disappearance, but for being a felon with a handgun. ATF agents say Capone bought a 40-caliber Glock pistol back in February, a month after Anderson filed for divorce.

They say he was living with a friend who knew Capone had a gun. When Capone allegedly started following his wife to see if she was dating someone else, the friend asked for the gun.

Prosecutors say Anderson was last seen April 16th. The next day Capone alleged his ex-wife was moving to Arizona.

Prosecutors brought Capone's criminal history to court.; convictions for bank larceny, aggravated assault, burglary, criminal mischief, vehicle burglary, trespassing, assault, theft and possession of a controlled substance.

There are also warrants for failure to appear, two fugitive warrants, a warrant for not paying child support in Arizona.

Capone's lawyers said some of those were misunderstandings, others don't prove that he wouldn't show up to court. Griswold says she doesn't buy it.

Capone will get to re-argue the case for his release at this next hearing. It's before a different judge who can choose to overturn it.

MOSCOW, ID. -- The husband of a missing Clarkston mother was arrested Thursday morning for violating a federal firearms law.

ATF agents from Spokane arrested Charles Capone at his work place in Moscow, Idaho around 10:00 a.m. Capone was recently estranged from his missing wife, Rachel Anderson, 40. Anderson was last heard from on Friday, April 16.

Officials say Capone is a convicted felon, and was breaking federal law by possessing a firearm.

Capone and Anderson were in the process of getting a divorce. Anderson had filed harassment charges against him prior to her disappearance.

Anderson's daughter, Amber Griswold, told KREM 2 News her mother was stalked for weeks by an unknown caller to her cell phone, sending mysterious text messages implying someone was watching her.

Thursdsay, Griswold told KREM 2 News she believes Capone had something to do with the stalking of her mother. Griswold claims Capone kept Anderson isolated from her family after she tried to break up the marriage, and believes he physically abused her.

001002

Anderson's cell phone and SUV were found abandoned in a field in Lewiston on Wednesday, April 21.

Capone has not been named a suspect by investigators in Anderson's disappearance.

Capone will be transferred to the Federal Courthouse in Coeur d'Alene. He will appear in federal court Friday morning.

UPDATE: Crews Resume Searching For Rachael Anderson

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) - The U.S. Coast Guard has joined the search of the Snake River near Clarkston, Wash., for the body of a Lewiston woman who has been missing since April 2010.

Asotin County (Wash.) Sheriff Ken Bancroft tells KLEW-TV that a fisherman pulled up an anchor and something wrapped in a tarp came up with it before breaking free. Bancroft says that information helped narrow the search for the body of Rachael Anderson.

Anderson's estranged husband, Charles Capone, faces trial on a first-degree murder charge in March.

Capone's co-defendant, David Stone, has pleaded guilty to failing to notify law enforcement about Anderson's death. Information obtained during plea negotiations led to November searches of the river west of Clarkston.

Officials say the current search will continue through Wednesday, if necessary.

PREVIOUS STORY:

KHQ.COM - On Monday search crews set out again along the Snake River near Clarkston to look for the remains of Rachael Anderson. The search, which will continue at least through Wednesday, is being conducted by the Asotin County Sheriff's Office with the assistance of the Asotin County Fire District, the Nez Perce County Sheriff's Office and the United States Coast Guard.

Boaters are being asked to stay clear of search boats working in the area near Red Wolf Bridge. Anderson has been missing since April 16 2010. Anderson petitioned for divorce after alleging her husband, Charles A. Capone, strangled and shoved her. The estranged ex husband of Rachael Anderson, Charles Capone is expected to be tried for her murder in March.

Capone maintains his innocence. Capone's alleged accomplice, David Stone was released from jail in late December after posting a $25,000 bond. Stone was also charged with Anderson's murder but accepted a plea deal late last year which reduced his charges. In exchange for information leading to the whereabouts to Anderson's body.

Suspect In Rachael Anderson Disappearance Changes Plea

LATAH COUNTY, Idaho -

On Monday, prosecutors in Latah County filed a plea agreement in the murder charges against David Stone. Stone, alongside his alleged accomplice Charles Capone, are accused of murdering Rachael Anderson in 2010 and hiding her body. She has never been seen since.

Capone & Stone were arrested and charged with murder and several other charges. Both men were expected to stand trial early next year.

In a series of recent interviews with investigators, prosecutor Bill Thompson says Stone told investigators he did not kill Rachael Anderson, but rather he came across the murder committed by Capone after the fact. Capone has maintained his innocence all along.

Prosecutor Bill Thompson says Stone gave up "information that we hope will help investigators locate Rachael."

In the plea agreement, Stone will testify against Capone. Stone also pled guilty to one count of felony "Failure to Notify Law Enforcement of a Death." In return, prosecutors dropped the Murder and Conspiracy to Commit Murder charges against Stone.

Stone is facing 7 years in prison.

KHQ's Dylan Wohlenhaus spoke to one of the daughters of Anderson, Ashley Colbert, who was in court Wednesday. She said, "this is a big relief that we get to know the answers in the end, instead of guessing."

Charles Capone is the estranged husband of Anderson.

Capone will stand trial for her murder in March of 2014.

Stone will also be sentenced in March.

Investigators Search Snake River For 'Potential' Body

Posted: Nov 19, 2013 3:52 PM PST
 Updated: Nov 19, 2013 4:20 PM PST

by Dylan Wohlenhaus, KHQ Local News Reporter - email

ASOTIN COUNTY, Wash. - With the help of Spokane County Dive Teams, Asotin County deputies continued their search on the Snake River after a "suspicious" tip.

Investigators say about a month ago they received a tip from two fisherman. Investigators say the fisherman's anchor was getting caught on something at the bottom of the river. When they pulled anchor investigators describe them seeing what appeared to be a body wrapped in "tarp like" material. As the object was pulled to the surface investigators say it unhooked from the anchor and fell back in to the water.

Deputies say the water search is focused between the confluence and the Port Of Wilma along the river in Clarkston. Investigators say the search has been on going for about a month and deputies have been on the water for the past 5 days. There has been speculation by some the search could be related to Rachael Anderson. Asotin County Sheriff Captain Dan Hally would not discuss the "ongoing" Anderson investigation but says there is nothing indicting the search is related. Anderson went missing 3 years go from Clarkston. Her body has never been found. Her ex-husband Charles Capone and his alleged accomplice David Stone will stand trial for her murder next year.

Hally says there are anywhere from 5-10 missing Persons cases between the Lewiston and Clarkson area. Hally says they have no information other than the tip from the two fisherman.

UPDATE: Moscow Man Denies Charges In Wife's Disappearance

Posted: Aug 21, 2013 7:07 AM PDT
Updated: Aug 21, 2013 7:16 AM PDT

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) - A Moscow man has pleaded not guilty to murder and conspiracy charges in the April 2010 disappearance of his estranged wife.

The Lewiston Tribune reports (<http://bit.ly/13FGMVe>) 52-year-old Charles A. Capone entered his pleas Tuesday before 2nd District Judge Michael J. Griffin. A trial is set for Dec. 9.

Capone and co-defendant David C. Stone are charged with first-degree murder, failure to notify law enforcement about a death and conspiracy to commit both charges in the death of Rachael Anderson of Clarkston, Wash. She was last seen at Capone's shop in Moscow. Her body has not been found.

Stone has not entered a plea.

The Latah County Prosecutors Office filed a motion Tuesday to combine the trials of Capone and Stone because they would include the same evidence and witnesses.

Trial Awaits Charles Capone & David Stone For Missing Mother's Disappearance

Posted: Jul 30, 2013 10:33 PM PDT
Updated: Aug 01, 2013 6:25 PM PDT

After 3 days hearing evidence in a preliminary trial, a Latah County judge determined there is enough evidence to try David Stone & Charles Capone for murder. The two are accused of murdering 40 year old Racheal Anderson in 2010 and disposing of her body. Her remains have never been found. Investigators say the two conspired to kill each others wives. An arrangement date has been set for August 7th in Latah County. The judge will determine when to set a jury trial date.

PREVIOUS STORY

It's been three years since Racheal Anderson vanished without a trace, leaving behind four young children.

Her body has never been found, but just a few months ago her estranged husband, Charles Capone, and a family friend were taken into custody. Both of them have been charged with her murder.

Investigators say Charles Capone and David Stone slipped Anderson a sleeping pill and once she was unconscious, killed her. Capone and Stone were arrested earlier this year and arraigned in Latah County. Tuesday there was a preliminary hearing, unveiling even more disturbing evidence.

Prosecutors say they have more than 30-witnesses to put on the stand, all in anticipation for a jury trial.

At the hearing Tuesday, several witnesses took the stand, including a man named Christopher Porter who is friends with David Stone. His statements to police almost 3-years ago revealed a shocking exchange between he and David Stone.

Porter told police that David Stone approached him and asked him to kill his wife for $10,000. Porter refused. But in a later conversation, Porter said Stone told him, that Stone & Capone made a pact to kill each others wives.

After listening to that interview, Stone's defense attorney pointed out Porter was never under oath.

Because this is a preliminary hearing its possible a jury may never hear some of the evidence presented on Tuesday.

Shortly after Racheal Anderson's disappearance, Capone was arrested on unrelated federal weapons charge. He served time for that, then was charged with assaulting Racheal Anderson. All that time he was in jail, investigators were building their case against he and David Stone.

Tuesday the judge heard from several witnesses including detectives who say Capone admitted to his involvement.

Capt. Tally with the Asotin County Sheriff's Office told the court Tuesday that Capone told him that he stalked Anderson because Capone believed she was doing the same to him.

Tally also told the court, when he spoke to Charles Capone at the Moscow police department a month after Anderson disappeared, he said, "Charles you are going to tell me two things: One, that you killed Racheal. Two, where her body is."

Tally said Capone responded by saying, one of those is correct and that he did not kill Racheal.

Again this is just a preliminary hearing and is expected to continue Wednesday and Thursday.

Documents: Men Had Pact To Kill Each Other's Wives

Updated: May 03, 2013 3:50 PM PDT

BOISE, Idaho (AP) - Two men charged with murdering an Idaho woman who disappeared three years ago had a pact to kill each other's wives, according to court documents released in the case.

Forty-year-old Rachael Anderson of Lewiston disappeared in 2010.

Her estranged husband, Charles Capone, of Clarkston, Wash., and David Stone, of Moscow, Idaho, were charged with first-degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder in a Moscow court this week.

One of Stone's former co-workers, Christopher Porter, told detectives that Stone originally asked him to kill his wife, Alisa Stone.

Stone later called off that plan, according to the Latah County Sheriff's Department, after telling Porter he and Capone had agreed to kill each other's wives.

Capone and Stone are being held in Latah County Jail.

Calls to Stone's wife weren't returned Friday.

N. Idaho Man Charged With Murder Denied Release

Posted: May 10, 2013 10:00 AM PDT
Updated: May 10, 2013 10:00 AM PDT

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) - A northern Idaho judge has rejected a request by a Moscow man charged with helping another man kill his wife to be released on his own recognizance or have bail set.

The Moscow-Pullman Daily News reports (<http://bit.ly/ZTRiV4>) that 2nd District Court Judge John Judge rejected 49-year-old David Stone's request Thursday.

Stone and 51-year-old Charles Capone of Clarkston, Wash., are both charged with first-degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder in the death of Capone's estranged wife, Rachael Anderson of Lewiston.

She was 40 when she disappeared three years ago and her body hasn't been found.

Judge also delayed a preliminary hearing for the case to June 27 after Latah County Prosecutor Bill Thompson cited a large amount of evidence and documents still being copied for defense attorneys.

Both defendants waived their right to a speedy trial.

NEW DETAILS ON KHQ.COM: Two Men Charged With Murder In Disappearance Of Missing North Idaho Woman

Posted: May 01, 2013 3:14 PM PDT

Updated: May 01, 2013 4:07 PM PDT

by Dylan Wohlenhaus, KHQ Local News Reporter - email
by Alex Rozier, KHQ Local News Reporter - bio | email

MOSCOW, Idaho - Charles Capone and David Stone now face first degree murder charges in the disappearance of Capone's estranged wife, Rachael Anderson. But that is not the only charge the Latah County Prosecutor filed Wednesday morning.

Capone also faces conspiracy to commit murder, failure to notify a coroner or law enforcement officer of a death, and conspiracy to commit failure to notify a coroner or law enforcement officer of a death.

Capone was previously charged with second degree assault. Investigators believed all of these crimes were committed in Latah County and is the reason why he is facing these charges there and not in Asotin County. Asotin County dismissed all local charges against Charles Capone. He was previously facing an assault charge stemming from an incident with Rachael Anderson three years ago.

In outlining the reason for the first degree murder charge, investigators made the following comments in court documents:

1. Charles Capone and David Stone surveilled, stalked and followed Rachael Anderson.
2. Charles Capone exchanged text messages and telephone communications with Rachael Anderson for the purpose of luring her to Capone's business in Latah County, Idaho.
3. Charles Capone gave an ultimatum to Rachael Anderson for her to return to him and not pursue divorce.
4. David Stone sought and received instructions on the operation of a backhoe.
5. Charles Capone stole a prescription drug known as Ambien.
6. David Stone went to Charles Capone's business on April 16, 2010.
7. Charles Capone and/or David Stone put Ambien into Rachael Anderson's beer for the purpose of drugging her.
8. Charles Capone and/or David Stone killed and murdered Rachael Anderson.

"All of our investigative information has led us to believe these crimes happened near Moscow," Asotin County Sheriff Ken Bancroft said.

Investigators said they still have no "solid leads" on where Rachael Anderson's body may be. "We've excavated a lot of dirt in the past three years," Bancroft said. "But no signs of her body." Capone is set to be extradited to Latah County to face these charges.

PREVIOUS STORY:

MOSCOW, Idaho - On Wednesday Charles Capone was charged with 1st degree murder, conspiracy to commit murder, failure to notify a coroner or law enforcement officer of a death and conspiracy to commit failure to notify a coroner or law enforcement officer of a death.

Capone is facing these charges in Latah County 3 years after his estranged wife Rachael Anderson disappeared.

Capone has remained the sole suspect in this case. Capone was being held in the Asotin county jail facing an assault charge stemming from an incident with Anderson three years ago. He was transported to Asotin county last year after serving time in Western Washington for unrelated charges.

Asotin county sheriff Ken Bancroft tells KHQ's Dylan Wohlenhaus that assault charges have been dropped against Capone so he could face the more serious charges in Latah County.

Bancroft says Capone was served papers to face murder charges early Wednesday morning in jail. Charles Capone has denied he has ever had any involvement with Anderson's disappearance.

Investigators believe the crimes Capone committed against Anderson happened in Latah County and is why he is facing charges there. Investigators say they have no "Solid Leads" on where Anderson's body may be. Bancroft says "We've excavated a lot of dirt in the past 3 years."

NEW DETAILS: Trial To Start Soon For Husband Of Missing Clarkston Woman

Updated: Mar 05, 2013 10:18 AM PST

KHQ.COM - Charles Capone's trial begins March 25th at 9am in Asotin County. Jury selection is March 22nd. It was originally set for today, but pushed back to this date.

His trial is for assault charges involving Rachael Anderson who disappeared 2 years ago. He remains the sole "Person Of Interest" not named a "Suspect" in her disappearance.

UPDATE: Charles Capone had a bond hearing Thursday morning in Asotin County. His bond was increased to $1 million from $250,000.

Capone's Next hearing is October 8th.

PREVIOUS COVERAGE

CLARKSTON, Wash. - New charges will be filed against the estranged husband of missing woman Rachael Anderson.

Charles Capone will be charged with Second Degree Assault for an incident that happened prior to Anderson's disappearance in April of 2010.

Detectives were able to look back at evidence and have enough to charge him.

Capone is due to be released from federal half way house on the west side.

He will be transported to Asotin County to face those charges, and could be in court as early as Friday.

Capone is being held on $250,000 bond.

Investigators continue to follow up on leads and have searched from Coeur d'Alene to Clarkston and beyond.

ASOTIN Wash. - We've obtained new information about the estranged husband of missing woman Rachael Anderson. On Wednesday Charles Capone pleaded not guilty to second degree assault and his reduced bond was denied.

Capone's public defender also asked the judge to reduce a $1 million bond for Capone but it was denied.

A hearing is scheduled for November 5th in Asotin County where the defense and prosecution will present to the judge if the case goes to trial.

UPDATE: Former Husband Of Rachael Anderson Found Guilty

by Kenneth McGrath, KHQ Producer - email

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) - A northern Idaho man named a person of interest in his estranged wife's disappearance has been sentenced to 33 months in prison for possession of a firearm in a separate case.

Charles A. Capone, of Moscow, initially faced two federal firearms charges and pleaded innocent. He later reached an agreement with prosecutors and in July, pleaded guilty to one of the charges.

Prosecutors say Capone told a friend he carried a pistol while following his wife in February to determine whether she was seeing someone else. He was arrested on the gun charges in May.

Capone is the last known person to see his wife, 41-year-old Rachael Anderson of Clarkston, Wash., in April before she disappeared. He has not been charged in his wife's disappearance, nor named a suspect.

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho - Charles Capone, the estranged husband of missing Clarkston, WA woman Rachael Anderson, has changed his plea to guilty for Unlawful Possession of a Firearm. Sentencing is set for September 27th.

Capone initially faced two federal firearms charges and pleaded innocent, but that changed Tuesday in U.S. District Court when Capone pleaded guilty to one of the charges as part of an agreement with prosecutors.

Authorities say Capone told a friend he carried a gun while following his wife in February to determine whether she was seeing someone else. He was arrested on the gun charges in May. Capone is the last known person to see his wife, 41-year-old Rachael Anderson, in April before she disappeared. He has not been charged in his wife's disappearance, nor named a suspect.

Exclusive New Details: Clarkston Woman Still Missing; Leads Slowing

 Updated: Jun 23, 2010 4:40 PM PDT

CLARKSTON, Wash. – Detectives in Clarkston say the pace of tips coming into their police department is slowing in their investigation into a missing woman.

Rachael Anderson was last seen April 16th by her estranged husband in Moscow, Idaho. She was reported missing several days later when she failed to appear at work in a hospital laboratory.

Charles Capone told detectives he last saw Anderson on April 16th. Detectives call him a person of interest in her disappearance. He is currently in jail on an unrelated charge.

Anderson's family says dealing with her disappearance has been especially difficult for her children.

"I just want people to know this is a real person," said Amber Griswold, one of Rachel's daughters. "She is a mother and grandmother."

Griswold says it is not like her mother to simply disappear without calling them. Anderson's birthday was June 11th. It was an especially tough time for her family.

"Someone knows something," said Griswold. "If it was your family member missing, you'd want someone to come forward, too."

Anyone with information is asked to call the Clarkston Police Department at (509) 758-1680.

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) - Detectives say the pace of tips about the whereabouts of a missing woman last seen in April has slowed.

Meanwhile, Rachael Anderson's estranged husband the last known person to see her remains in an Idaho jail awaiting separate federal weapons charges.

Anderson has been missing since April 16. Early this year, the Clarkston, Wash., resident petitioned for divorce after alleging her husband, Charles A. Capone, strangled and shoved her.

The tips are still coming in, but "it's obviously a lot slower than it was to begin with," says Clarkston Police Detective Dan Combs.

Amber Griswold, Anderson's oldest daughter, says waiting for word of her mother has been difficult for the family. Anderson's birthday earlier this month was especially tough.

by Kenneth McGrath, KHQ Producer - email

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) - The husband of a missing Washington state woman has been indicted on federal gun charges.

A grand jury in Coeur d'Alene indicted 48-year-old Charles A. Capone of Moscow Tuesday on two counts of unlawful possession of a firearm. Capone has felony convictions for aggravated assault and burglary in 1998 and bank larceny in 1997 and is barred from owning a firearm.

The grand jury alleges Capone carried a Glock .40-caliber pistol around in February, while a second count alleges Capone had a Remington .270 rifle and a Mossberg 12-gauge shotgun in October 2009.

Capone is listed as a person of interest in the disappearance of his estranged wife, Rachel Anderson of Clarkston, Wash. Anderson was last seen by Capone in Moscow on April 16. Anderson had filed for divorce.

Missing Clarkston woman's husband served time for assault

Posted: May 12, 2010 2:12 PM PDT

by Kenneth McGrath, KHQ Producer - email

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP) - The husband of a woman missing since April threatened a separate woman more than a decade ago and served time in prison, according to court records. Charles A. Capone of Moscow is being held in federal custody in Bonner County without bail, awaiting hearings on charges of being a felon in possession of a firearm.

His estranged wife, Rachael Anderson, has been missing since April 16. Capone served time in an Idaho prison after a felony burglary and aggravated assault conviction stemming from a 1997 incident where a woman accused him of threatening her with a knife.

The Lewiston Tribune reports he was discharged from probation in 2007 by the Department of Correction. Anderson, a Clarkston, Wash., resident, petitioned for divorce in January after alleging Capone strangled and shoved her.

Husband of missing Clarkston woman ordered to stay in jail

Posted: Apr 20, 2010 9:42 PM PDT
 Updated: May 10th, 2010 05:47 PM PDT
 by Justin Lange, KHQ/SWX Producer

COEUR d'ALENE, Idaho - The husband of a missing Clarkston woman appeared in court Monday on a firearms charge. Last week Charles Capone was arrested on a federal charge of felon in possession of a firearm.

On Monday a judge ordered Capone to remain in custody based on evidence of him possessing a firearm and past violent crimes.

Previous coverage

Charles Capone was arrested at his business in Moscow on last Thursday. He appeared before a Boise judge Friday via video conference from Coeur d'Alene and was ordered held pending a detention hearing Monday.

Capone's estranged wife, 40-year-old Rachael Anderson, has been missing since April 16. Federal court records indicate Capone is a person of interest in Anderson's disappearance and that she filed a report with Clarkston police on Jan. 2 alleging he had pushed and strangled her. She filed for divorce on Jan. 7 after three months of marriage. One of her daughters says Anderson had been receiving disturbing phone calls and feared for her life. Court records say Capone pleaded guilty to a federal charge of felony bank larceny in October 1997.

Daughter's of Rachael Anderson say Charles Capone's arrest comes as no surprise to them. They believe Capone was stalking their mother and that he knows more about her disappearance than he is saying.

More Previous coverage

CLARKSTON, Wash. - Investigators have found Rachael Anderson's cell phone. At this point, according to Clarkston Police Chief, Joel Hastings, they can not say where the phone was found. Chief Hastings can say that investigators are examining the phone to develop other investigative leads to help them find the missing woman.

Detectives continue to follow leads into the disappearance of 40-year-old Rachael Anderson. The last significant development, prior to finding the cell phone, was Anderson's 97' GMC Yukon being located. The vehicle was found in north Lewiston Idaho last Wednesday afternoon and has been transported to the police station for further examination.

Anderson's daughters reported her missing after not showing up for work. The Asotin County Sheriff's Office said she recently reported being harassed.

Anderson is 5'4", 120 lbs. with black hair and brown eyes.

Anderson's daughter Amber created a facebook page for her mother. Here's a message posted on facebook from Amber:

"My mother was last seen in Moscow, Idaho on Friday, April 16, 2010. My sister and I reported her missing on Monday, April 19th after she failed to make it to work and we were unable to contact her. This type of behavior is very uncharacteristic of our mother. The past three months have been a nightmare for her. She was a victim of stalking and feared for her life. The stalking compelled her to sleep in the living room of her home with the lights on instead sleeping in her own bedroom".

Click here to visit Anderson's facebook page.

If you have any information on where she is, you're asked to call 509-758-2331.

One of the two men charged in connection with the disappearance of Clarkston resident Rachel Anderson has been scheduled for a change of plea hearing in Latah County Second District Court Wednesday.

David Stone, 49, will be in court Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. according to court documents. He and Charles Capone, 52, were charged with several counts including first-degree murder for the disappearance of 40-year-old Rachel Anderson, who was last seen on April 16, 2010.

It is believed that the two men killed Anderson in the 2200 block of South Main Street in Moscow and then disposed of her body.

Stone and Capone are charged with first-degree murder, conspiracy to commit first-degree murder, failure to notify a coroner or law enforcement officer of a death, and conspiracy to commit failure to notify a coroner or law enforcement officer of a death.

They have both previously pleaded not guilty to the charges.

Capone is set to stand trial in Latah County Second District Court on March 31.

Investigators searching Snake River for body

Published On: Nov 15 2013 10:53:55 AM PST
LEWISTON, Idaho -

Law enforcement officers, divers and a boat equipped with sonar are searching the Snake River west of Clarkston, Wash., after receiving information that a body might be in the river.

Latah County Prosecutor William Thompson Jr. told the Lewiston Tribune on Thursday that it was his understanding that the search is related to several missing person cases in the Lewiston-Clarkston Valley.

Thompson declined comment when asked if the search may be for the body of Rachael Anderson, a Clarkston woman who was last seen in April 2010. Her estranged husband, Charles A. Capone, and David C. Stone face trial next year on murder charges.

Capt. Dan Hally with the Asotin County sheriff's office in Washington has said the public will be notified if the search team finds anything.

Judge delays murder trial for Charles Capone

Published On: Oct 10 2013 11:17:17 AM PDT Updated On: Oct 10 2013 11:38:01 AM PDT

MOSCOW, Idaho -

A judge has agreed to delay until next year the trial of a Moscow man accused in the slaying of his wife three years ago.

The trial for Charles Capone was expected to begin in early December. But Latah County Attorney Bill Thompson requested pushing it back due to the significant amount of evidence in the case.

The Moscow-Pullman Daily News reports Thompson is still acquiring evidence, and key elements, including DNA and blood samples, are still being analyzed in federal government labs impacted by the partial shutdown.

Defense attorneys agreed to the delay.

Capone is charged with first-degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder in the death of Rachael Anderson of Clarkston, Wash. She was last seen at Capone's shop in Moscow. Her body has not been found.

Moscow man denies murder and conspiracy charges

Published On: Sep 16 2013 11:49:21 AM PDT

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) --

A Moscow man has pleaded not guilty to murder and conspiracy charges stemming from the April 2010 disappearance of another man's estranged wife.

Fifty-year-old David C. Stone of Moscow made the plea Thursday in 2nd District Court.

Fifty-two-year-old Charles A. Capone, also of Moscow, pleaded not guilty to the same charges in August.

Capone and co-defendant Stone are charged with first-degree murder and conspiracy to commit first-degree murder in the death of Rachael Anderson of Clarkston, Wash. She was last seen at Capone's shop in Moscow. Her body has not been found.

Judge Jeff Brudie says he will decide as soon as possible on a motion by Latah County Prosecuting Attorney William Thompson Jr. to combine the two trials.

A Moscow man has pleaded not guilty to murder and conspiracy charges in the April 2010 disappearance of his estranged wife.

The Lewiston Tribune reports 52-year-old Charles A. Capone entered his pleas Tuesday before 2nd District Judge Michael J. Griffin. A trial is set for Dec. 9.

Capone and co-defendant David C. Stone are charged with first-degree murder, failure to notify law enforcement about a death and conspiracy to commit both charges in the death of Rachael Anderson of Clarkston, Wash. She was last seen at Capone's shop in Moscow. Her body has not been found.

Stone has not entered a plea.

The Latah County Prosecutors Office filed a motion Tuesday to combine the trials of Capone and Stone because they would include the same evidence and witnesses.

An Idaho judge determined there is probable cause to try two Moscow men in the death of a Clarkston, Wash., woman who went missing more than three years ago.

The Lewiston Tribune reports 2nd District Court Magistrate John C. Judge ruled Thursday after a three-day preliminary hearing for 52-year-old Charles A. Capone and 49-year-old David C. Stone.

The men are charged with first-degree murder and conspiracy to commit first-degree murder in the death of Capone's estranged wife, Rachael Anderson. Her body has not been found.

Testimony at the preliminary hearing indicated Anderson died at Capone's shop in April 2010, where she was last seen with both men. Capone reportedly bought a tarp the next morning.

Defense attorneys argued there was no evidence of Anderson's death in the state of Idaho.

The Moscow Police Department is under fire from defense lawyers for Charles Capone after detectives recorded over a key portion of an interview with him.

Capone and David Stone are facing murder charges for their roles in the disappearance of Capone's estranged wife Rachael Anderson.

The interview with Capone was recorded three years ago and during the interview detectives said Capone didn't kill his wife but knew where her body was.

Detectives said they later taped over the statement because the recording also contained taped conversations between Capone and his attorney.

Magistrate John C. Judge called the loss a big oversight.

Charles Capone is charged with the 2010 murder of his estranged wife Rachael Anderson.

Preliminary hearings for two men who have been charged with murder in the disappearance of a 40-year-old Clarkston woman more than three years ago got underway today in Latah County Second District Court.

Charles Capone, 52, and David Stone, 49, have been charged with being a principal to murder in the 1st-degree, conspiracy to commit 1st-degree murder, failure to notify a coroner or law enforcement officer of a death, and conspiracy to commit failure to notify a coroner or law enforcement officer of a death.

According to court documents, it is believed Capone and Stone killed Capone's estranged wife, Rachael Anderson, in the 2200 block of South Main Street on April 16, 2010 and then disposed of her body. Her remains have not been found.

The preliminary hearings are expected to last three to four days.

A northern Idaho judge has rejected a request by a Moscow man charged with helping another man kill his wife to be released on his own recognizance or have bail set.

The Moscow-Pullman Daily News reports that 2nd District Court Judge John Judge rejected 49-year-old David Stone's request Thursday.

Stone and Charles Capone, 51, of Clarkston, Wash., are both charged with first-degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder in the death of Capone's estranged wife, Rachael Anderson of Lewiston.

She was 40 when she disappeared three years ago and her body hasn't been found.

Judge also delayed a preliminary hearing for the case to June 27 after Latah County Prosecutor Bill Thompson cited a large amount of evidence and documents still being copied for defense attorneys.

Both defendants waived their right to a speedy trial.

Time for "closure and accountability" in Rachael Anderson murder case

Two men are behind bars in Latah County accused of the 2010 murder of Rachael Anderson as the search continues for the victim's body.

Anderson, 40, disappeared in April 2010. Her body has never been found. Her estranged husband Charles Capone and his friend David Stone have been charged with her death.

Prosecutors say the investigation took a turn when Capone told other inmates while he was in custody that police would never find Anderson's body.

Police are still searching for her but investigators say even if they don't find her they'll still have a strong case.

"If it takes a reward to have someone come forward that's what we're going to do," Amber Griswold said, Anderson's daughter, said.

Anderson was last seen at Capone's auto shop. She had planned to tell Capone she was following through with getting a divorce. On April 16, 2010 she went missing, leaving her two daughters pleading for her safe return.

"Keep your eye out, keep spreading the word, and if anybody has seen her or the vehicle over the weekend we want it reported to the police," Griswold said at the time of her mom's disappearance.

Detectives found the SUV Anderson had been driving and her cell phone soon after near Lewiston. Police later arrested Capone on an assault charge stemming from an incident with Anderson in Dec. 2009 but couldn't find enough to charge him with murder.

And then Capone started talking to other inmates in jail. Court documents show Capone told them police would never find Rachael's body, and he also detailed to fellow inmates how he would dispose of a body.

"We're filing at the culmination of three years of investigation, three years info gathering, that put us in the position where we thought we have sufficient basis to proceed and it was time to move forward and try to get some closure and accountability," Latah County Prosecutor Bill Thompson said.

Investigators say Capone and Stone plotted to kill each others wives at one point; now they both face first degree murder charges for the death of Capone's wife.

Prosecutors say they have extensive evidence against Capone and Stone including DNA belonging to both Anderson and Capone found on a piece of a latex glove in the SUV Anderson had been driving.

Capone and Stone will make their next court appearance next Thursday.

As for the search for Rachael Anderson's remains, investigators say finding her is the most important goal they have right now.

Charles Capone, the estranged husband of Rachael Anderson, and David Stone, a friend of Capone's, were charged Wednesday morning in Latah County with her murder in April 2010.

Anderson was last seen in Moscow, Idaho on April 16, 2010. Police have long believed she was murdered and Capone has long been considered a prime suspect in her disappearance.

In addition to being charged with 1st Degree Murder, Capone has also been charged with conspiracy to commit murder, failure to notify a coroner or law enforcement officer of a death and conspiracy to commit failure to notify a coroner or law enforcement officer of a death.

Stone is facing the same charges for aiding Capone in Anderson's killing.

The Case Against Capone and Stone

According to court documents, just before 7 p.m. on April 16, Anderson spoke to Captain Dan Hally with the Asotin County Sheriff's Office regarding an ongoing stalking case involving Capone. Hally advised Anderson not to confront Capone personally, after she said she was going to tell Capone she was following through with the divorce. Hally told her not to contact him in person because Capone could get violent toward her.

Unfortunately Anderson was already at Palouse Multiple Services, Capone's business, where he was doing some work on her vehicle. She was waiting for him outside the business in a borrowed GMC Yukon, which she had been driving while Capone worked on her vehicle.

The last time anyone heard from her was when she contacted one of her ex-husbands an hour later, telling him that she needed to talk to him about something. He tried to call her back but the calls dropped straight to voice mail. It was the last outgoing call from her cell phone.

Six days later, on April 22, a search warrant was executed at Capone's business, where investigators noticed two tarps covering equipment, an older one that was older and had overspray on it from painting, and a newer green and brown tarp that the investigation later revealed had been purchased at a hardware store the day after Anderson had disappeared. A witness reported seeing an older green tarp with overspray on it before April 16.

According to authorities Stone, a worker for the City of Moscow, asked to be taught how to use a backhoe at the Moscow City Maintenance shop during the first week of April, 2010, telling co-workers he had to "help a buddy with a project." He subsequently practiced digging a hole, and when he was told to fill the hole back in reportedly quipped that he was going to "bury them in the spoils pile."

On April 29 the Clearwater County Sheriff's Office Search and Rescue dog handler accompanied Lewiston police officers to the storage building where the GMC Yukon, which had been found several days into the investigation of Anderson's disappearance, was being stored. A cadaver dog walked around the Yukon with the handler and gave an indicator on the rear doors of the vehicle. When the doors were opened the dog jumped inside and laid down in the back of the SUV, the dog's behavior indicating that at some point human decomposition was inside the rear of the vehicle.

In May of 2010, investigators spoke with another individual, Christopher Porter, who said he had been approached by Stone who asked him to kill his wife for $10,000. Stone mentioned his wife had a large insurance policy at the time. Porter declined. In March 2010, a month before Anderson's disappearance, Stone told Porter that he and Capone had come up with plans to kill each others' wives.

The investigators also received a report back from the Idaho State Police in May, detailing the presence of human blood found on items found inside the Yukon. In December, following requests for DNA samples taken from both Capone and Stone, the lab confirmed the presence of both Capone's and Anderson's DNA found on a tip of a black latex glove found in the Yukon. During a previous search of Capone's truck a box of latex gloves was found, the gloves matching the glove tip that was found inside the Yukon.

Among the numerous items seized as evidence from Capone was a prescription bottle of Ambien in his shop that belonged to the wife of Robert Bogden. Bogden's wife told investigators she never gave Capone a bottle of her medication but had in fact given him one or two pills to help him sleep. Capone later approached Bogden and told him police took a bottle of his wife's Ambien from his shop. During that meeting Capone reportedly told Bogden that police would only see what they wanted to, and that "they think I put sleeping pills in her beer."

At that point, however, no one in the investigation had said anything to anyone about the possibility that Capone had put any drugs in Anderson's beer.

Capt. Hally and ATF Agent Lance Hart met with Capone in May, and during that conversation Capone said he would tell investigators that he would lead detectives to his estranged wife's body, but only if he would be allowed to stay out of police custody. The request denied, Capone stopped cooperating and declined to provide any additional information to authorities.

Discussions in Jail

Over the next several years, while being held in jail, Capone spoke with several inmates about his estranged wife's disappearance.

While he was being held in the Bonner County Jail in May of 2010, Capone spoke with Joshua Voss about the case. During the conversation Capone quipped that police "think I killed my wife, but I am not worried because they will never find her body." Voss thought it strange that Capone said he hadn't killed her but went on to say her body would never be found. After seeing news reports about Anderson's disappearance, Voss reported the conversation he had with Capone to authorities.

Two years later in 2012, while Capone was being held on a federal weapons charge at the SeaTac Federal Detention Center, Capt. Hally and another detective met with him. Capone was agitated from the start of the conversation, saying that he had been waiting for two years for them to come and arrest him. Capone got angrier as the conversation progressed and yelled for the guards to come get him.

After Capone was released from federal detention, after serving 33 months in prison for being a felon in possession of a firearm, he was transferred to Asotin County, where he had been previously charged with second degree assault, stemming from the Dec. 27, 2009 incident where he attempted to strangle Anderson.

In January of this year, an Asotin County Jail inmate reported on a series of conversations he had with Capone in which he admitted he "barely choked" Anderson during the Dec. 2009 incident.

"It wasn't like I was trying to kill the bitch," Capone reportedly said, winking after he made the statement.

Capone then laid out how he would kill someone if he were going to kill them. In detail he explained he would put them on a big tarp, wait until the blood coagulated, cut the body up and then dissolve the body parts in a car parts washer. Capone explained temperatures in the washer can reach upwards of 1300 degrees. Three years earlier, during the execution of the search warrant on Capone's business, a car parts washer was seen inside the shop.

The inmate said that Capone got angry at another inmate on another occasion and told that individual, "[D]on't make me cut up another body."

A week later that same inmate provided more information to authorities about Capone, saying that he had talked about how you go about burying a body, describing how you have to make allowances for the body to sink into the ground. He mentioned how law enforcement had searched the 40 acres around a cabin in St. Maries; Capone said they could search for 50 years but would never find anything.

When other inmates teased him about Anderson's body being found at the cabin, Capone got up and left; the inmate walked with him and overheard Capone say, "I buried the body so deep they'll never find it? they'll never find the fing b*h."

Finally, Capone related a story about a book he had read where a girl named "Rachael" gets drugged and thrown into a lake. Capone said that was no way to dispose of a body because in the story the body floated up to the surface of the lake.

Capone told his fellow inmate that the night Anderson disappeared on April 16, she had showed up with a six pack of Grolsh beer. He said she had threatened to turn him because he was a felon in possession of firearms and he knew he would go to prison if he were caught. Capone admitted putting a sleeping pill in her beer "to shut her up," telling the inmate that he decided he had "no choice" but to "end it all."

To date Anderson's body has never been found.

ASOTIN, WA - 51-year-old Charles Capone appeared via video link this afternoon while his attorney, Mark Monson, appeared via telephone as Asotin County Superior Court Judge William Acey approved a contract for dismissal of charges no later than May 1st. Capone is facing one count of 2nd-degree assault-domestic violence against his missing estranged wife.

40-year-old Rachael Anderson was last seen on April 16, 2010. The alleged assault happened on December 27, 2009 - just days before Anderson filed for divorce.

Prosecutor Ben Nichols agreed to the contract with an expectation that a federal grand jury will hand down an indictment against Capone on significantly more serious charges sometime in April. Capone is considered a "person of interest" in Anderson's disappearance. Nichols says the most Capone could have received from the assault case - if convicted - is 6 to 12 months in jail, and he has already been held for about eight months.

ASOTIN, WA - A 51-year-old Moscow man who is charged with 2nd-degree assault-domestic violence against his missing estranged wife has a new attorney.

Mark Monson was appointed to represent Charles Capone in his upcoming trial after attorney Jane Richards filed a motion to withdraw due to an unwaivable conflict of interest. Asotin County Superior Court Judge William Acey granted the motion to withdraw earlier this afternoon.

Monson says he will be ready for the March 26th trial, which has been moved to Columbia County Superior Court due to media coverage of the case. Monson is familiar with the case because he has been a co-counsel.

Capone allegedly attempted to strangle 40-year-old Rachael Anderson on December 27, 2009, just days before she filed for divorce. She has been missing since April 16, 2010.

Charles Capone's domestic violence trial against his estranged wife, missing since 2010, has been delayed again.

Capone, 51, of Moscow, is charged with second degree domestic violence against his missing wife, Rachael Anderson.

Anderson, 40, was last seen in 2010. She has never been found.

Authorities have been holding Capone on charges he tried to strangle Anderson just days before she filed for divorce.

His trial has now been moved to March 5.

Bond has been set at $1 Million for the man accused of choking his estranged wife who has been missing for two years.

Charles Capone is facing a charge of second degree assault. He's accused of choking his then-wife Rachael Anderson in late 2009.

She disappeared in April of 2010 and has never been found. Capone is considered a person of interest in her disappearance.

The estranged husband of a missing Clarkston woman has been returned to Asotin County to face a domestic violence assault charge.

Asotin County Judge Ray Lutes last week signed a warrant for Charles Capone on a 2nd degree assault charge, Capone is accused of attempting to strangle 40-year-old Rachael Anderson on December 27, 2009. She was last seen on April 16, 2010.

Capone was just released from federal custody after serving a 33-month sentence on a charge of being a felon in possession of a firearm. Most recently he had been serving his time in a halfway house in King County.

A detainer was placed on him by Asotin County and he was transported to the Asotin County Jail Wednesday.

Capone is considered a person of interest in Anderson's disappearance in 2010. She had filed for divorce from Capone in January 2010 after just three months of marriage.

Prosecutors say they have a solid case against Capone and they are not giving up on finding Anderson.

Capone is being held on a $250,000 bond and a bond hearing is expected to take place Thursday.

New charges filed against missing Clarkston woman's estranged husband

New charges have been filed against Rachael Anderson's estranged husband, who is also the prime suspect in her disappearance.

Charles Capone is charged with 2nd-degree assault - domestic violence. He is accused of strangling Rachael Anderson, 40, on December 27, 2009. She filed for divorce from Capone in January 2010. Anderson was last seen on April 16, 2010.

Capone is serving time in federal prison on a weapons charge. He's scheduled to be released on Wednesday. Asotin County Sheriff Ken Bancroft said Capone has been serving his time in a halfway house in King County. A detainer has been placed on him, requiring him to return to Asotin County by Friday. Bond on the new charge is set at $250,000.

Capone is considered the prime suspect in Anderson's disappearance. She filed for divorce from Capone after three months of marriage. Capone has a history of domestic violence. In 1997, he allegedly threatened to break into the home of a Moscow doctor. He also threatened to rape her and her daughter, and then kill himself. In 2006, Capone also allegedly stood over his ex-wife in Florida and threatened to kill her. Bancroft says they have a solid case against Capone and "he won't be touching dry dirt until we are done with him."

Prior to her disappearance Anderson had been receiving strange text messages and her tires on her SUV were slashed. After her disappearance investigators found her cell phone in a field outside Lewiston and while her SUV was found parked in Lewiston.

Anderson's body has never been found.

Mia Carlson from Big Country 97.7 contributed to this report.
